Catch thieves who looted Wheeling home

Two young men who broke into the home of the William Karrys of Wheeling July 20, while they were on a vacation, were apprehended and arrested by the Northfield police Thursday.

They confessed burglarizing four North Shore homes and breaking into 15 parked automobiles in Chicago and on the North Shore. More than $1,000 in loot has been recovered, police said.

THEY ARE Richard Nickl, 17, of 2218 Waukegan rd., Glenview, and Ben Hugenin, 18, of 564 Provident rd., Winnetka. It appears that Nickl obtained addresses of homes to be burglarized when the people brought their dogs to his father's dog kennel when they left town.

Hugenin was arrested Wednesday when a tip was received by the Northfield police that he was seen with a pistol taken in a recent burglary. Police found the loot in the homes of the boys.

NORTHFIELD POLICE knowing that there had been a robbery in Wheeling, called in Chief Mackh to question the boys. They admitted to the Karry burglary after two hours of questioning.

The goods stolen and returned to the Karrys consisted of a clock radio, an electric drill and a pocket watch. An unsuccessful attempt had been made to remove the engraving on the watch.

Revocation of building permits brings quick action by home construction firm

Members of Arlington Heights village board, Building Commissioner Fred J. Hammer, Village Clerk Davis and others have been named in an injunction suit filed last week by Lorraine Homes, Inc. in the Circuit court of Cook county. The first hearing, held Tuesday before Judge Haas, was continued until Friday, with the suggestion that the two sides hold a conference and endeavor to reach a mutual agreement.

The filing of the suit followed the action of the village board on September 4 ordering the Lorraine Homes, Inc. to suspend building operations until the Arlington Heights board had an opportunity to investigate the complaint made by Al Perlin, spokesman for the Northwest Community Betterment group.

Perlin claimed that the village building code was being violated, in that more than two homes of the same architectural design are being erected in one block.

THE BUILDING firm was asked to attend a special board meeting to be held last Friday evening to further discuss the situation and to iron out existing problems.

The hall was well filled with spectators Friday night, but no representative of the Lorraine Homes, Inc. put in an appearance. Various village officials had received that afternoon notice from Attorney John Jursich Jr., that a million dollar lawsuit was about to be filed against them. (The notice received by Paddock Publications, Inc. as one of the defendants, appears in this week's Fence Post.)

The notice also stated that no representative would attend that evening's meeting. Members of the board held a lengthy conference and about 9:30 Mayor Goedke called the board to order and the following resolution was presented and unanimously passed:

"Whereas the president and board of trustees, having investigated the buildings being constructed by Lorraine Homes, Inc. in Arlington Heights and have found that such buildings do not conform to the building code requirements under Section 684½, 684-a, and 684-b, and in view of the fact that said Lorraine Homes, Inc. has failed to show any indication of a desire to cooperate with the said village board of trustees with a view to compliance with provisions of the municipal code;

"Now therefore be it resolved that all permits issued to Lorraine Homes, Inc., for buildings not yet completed or commenced, be and they are hereby revoked. Be it further resolved that said Lorraine Homes, Inc. be notified immediately of this action, and to cease further work on such buildings."

THE RESOLUTION brought almost instant action on the part of the building firm which filed an application for injunction, naming as defendants in addition to the officials above named, William F. Meyer, village treasurer; Romulo Becker, superintendent of water and streets; Hugo J. Thal, village attorney; and Carl Skoog, chief of police.

During the preliminary hearing Tuesday before Judge Haas the attorneys were directed by the judge to attempt an amicable settlement. They agreed to do so and were directed to report back Friday morning on the result.

ATTORNEY Jursich attended the supposedly "get together" meeting Tuesday evening. He offered no compromise, evidently standing pat on the previously stated position of the firm he represents. No progress can be reported, although efforts have since been made to contact the principals in the Lorraine Homes, Inc. in a new effort to talk things over. Although no contact with them has been reached as this paper goes to press, additional efforts will be made by the village on Thursday to have a "cease war" conference.

Mr. Jursich Jr., invited to state for publication a resume of the contentions of the building firm, writes:

Mayor Goedke Tuesday afternoon appealed to Mr. Miller of Lorraine Homes, Inc., for a final conference between principals Thursday morning in a last effort to reach agreement.

"In accordance with our telephone conversation, you may publish the following:

"The resolution adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights on September 7, 1951, is an outrageous and gross violation of the Constitution and laws of the State of Illinois.

"Our Constitution provides that no person shall be deprived of property without due process of law. One of the prerequisites of due process is notice—notice that the person is being deprived of its property. At no time has the Village of Arlington Heights given Lorraine Homes, Inc., notice that the permits would be revoked. Thus, the resolution of the Board of Trustees is wholly and utterly in violation of our Constitution.

"The resolution is also illegal because the laws of this State do not allow a municipality to revoke building permits for the reasons stated by the Village of Arlington Heights. Consequently, Lorraine Homes, Inc., is suffering a great injustice.

"Thank God that we have courts of equity which will rectify this tremendous injustice. The Honorable Judge Haas of the Superior Court of Cook county, has set the hearing for my prayer for an injunction over until September 14, 1951; until then, Judge Haas has allowed Lorraine Homes, Inc. to continue work without interference.

"Most important, however, is the fact that Lorraine Homes, Inc. has, to this date, complied 100 percent with the building code of Arlington Heights. This statement I have made, and will make again, under oath."

Following the court hearing Tuesday the village agreed to allow Lorraine Homes, Inc. to continue with its construction while awaiting the decision of Judge Haas, provided that if they are found to be in violation of provisions of the building code, they will subsequently make any necessary corrections.

PERMITS have been issued for a total of 76 homes during 1950 and 1951. Fifteen homes have not yet been started. Excavation has been made on two and foundations are completed on five others. Roofing and siding is completed on about 10 homes.

Mayor Goedke told the Herald Wednesday that he hopes a compromise can be found and that as presiding officer of the village he is ready to do his part.

"I recognize the attitude of the older residents in Arlington Park over the change in the architectural appearance of that area. To what extent architectural design of homes can be legislated in the area is a matter for Judge Haas to decide. The village board is ready to make the best possible bargain, and I hope that the building firm will meet with us around a conference table."

Baby sitter and boyfriend steal cash from Wheeling home

Police Chief Harold Mackh of Wheeling is being commended for the fine job he did in recovering nearly $200 cash, which was stolen from a Wheeling resident last week.

The resident was the victim of her 14 year old "baby sitter" and her boyfriend. The girl, hired to care for the children, asked her boyfriend in for the evening. The sitter spent the night at the victim's home. In the morning the lady of the house discovered that the cash she had in a drawer for deposit in the bank that day was gone.

She questioned the girl, who denied knowing anything about it. When asked if anyone else was at the house during the previous evening she said no.

The girl was sent home and Police Chief Mackh was notified. He checked with the girl and after an extensive talk got her to confess she had her boyfriend over and gave Chief Mackh his name. Further anvestigation showed the boy had a police record and it wasn't too long after that that the chief was able to get a confession.

President Hartman said, "I hope the citizens of Arlington Heights will do everything in their power to make Kid's day a success. Remember, the children of today are the adults of tomorrow and the chance you give them now may well have a bearing on their future."

Hijackers nab $75,000 load from truck near Heights

The fast growing "trade" of hijacking struck locally, Monday morning of this week when $75,000 worth of clothing disappeared after a truck was stopped at the junction of routes 58 and 62, and the driver kidnapped for two hours.

The load of suits, dresses, lingerie, blouses and dry goods were en route from Block and Kuhl company of Peoria to its Winnetka store. When the driver, Chester Hauks of North Pekin, stopped for a stop sign at about 6:30 a.m., the four bandits moved in from both sides and forced the driver from the truck.

THEY BLINDFOLDED Hauks, covered him with a blanket on the floor of the car, then released him in the Camp Bemis woods of the forest preserve at 31st and Wolf rd. Hauks walked to the Bedford Park county police station and reported the theft.

The truck was later found, empty, at 3931 Woodland ave., Western Springs.

Diary tells story of the 1864 Sherman march to the sea

Way-Back-When will start the publication next week of the diary of a member of the Union Army who participated in the renowned "Gen. Sherman's March to the Sea."

The diary is a first hand story of war as it was experienced 90 years ago. It was just as terrible then without atom bombs, air attacks, and liquid fire such as 1951 soldiers are experiencing in Korea.

Sgt. Alfred Lamb, grandfather of Lester Bennett, 931 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, wrote in his diary every Sunday. Readers will find it intensely interesting. It will be published with few deletions.

The subscription drive closes September 24.

Draft board hiding? Registrant wonders as he gets run around

"It took an hour of telephoning before we could find out where my 18 year old son had to report to register with his draft board," an aggravated Palatine mother told Paddock Publications Monday morning.

"We called the Palatine, Arlington and Des Plaines police and finally found the place through a telephone operator, and it even took her quite a long time to get the information," continued the mother.

At her suggestion Paddock Publications is publishing the address of the local draft board and its hours in order that other boys of draft age will not have the same difficulty. The local selective service board is located at 1503-A Ellinwood, Des Plaines, (next to the Studebaker garage) and its hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p. m. daily. The telephone number is Vanderbilt 4-1882.

Boys are given five days after they reach their eighteenth birthday to register for the draft.

Arlington Heights firemen answered an inhalator call late Sunday night at the Hunter home, 940 N. Chestnut. Their young son was having a severe asthma attack and needed an inhalator to help him breathe. The equipment did the trick and the boy has recovered.

Senate votes 30% increase in newspaper rates

After two days of bitter debate, the U. S. Senate September 7 accepted practically all recommendations of the committee on post office as to postal rate revision. The bill, as approved and sent to the House, calls for a series of three annual step-ups of 10% in second-class rates for newspapers. The Senate adopted an amendement of Senator Russell Long, (D) La. raising the rates on periodicals by 20% for a total of 60% in three years.

The NEA sponsored joint committee on postal service (known as the Carlson resolution) was also approved. Periodical publishers have protested that this discriminatory motion is part and parcel of a broad plan for the classification of the press for regulatory purposes. Senator Tom Underwood (D) Ky., directed attention to the fact that: "The daily newspapers joined with the magazines in resisting a proposed 60% rate on the ground that they could not stand it."

The spokesmen for the Senate postal committee were hard pressed to retain the 10-10-10 rates whcih they had recommended in reporting S. 1046 to the Senate calendar. Underwood, former president of the Kentucky press association and a member of the committee, aided by Senator Frank Carlson (R) Kan. and committee chairman Olin Johnston, (D) S. C. led the defense of the committee's schedules for publications. An amendment by Senator Paul Douglas, (D) Ill. calling for a 60% instead of the total of 30% advocated by the committee was defeated by a narrow margin of 32 to 28. The Long amendment confirming the series of 20% raises to periodicals passed by a vote of 36 to 24.

With the exception of an item proposing restoration of full scale postal deliveries in residential areas and doubling the rates on periodicals, S. 1046 as reported from the Committee was approved without change. A "rider" having no relation to postal rates was attached as a parliamentary method of forcing a House vote in graduated leave for government employees. It is expected that the House will vote on H. R. 2982 and all amendments not later than September 21.

Subscription rates $4 starting October 1

Effective October 1, 1951, yearly subscription rates of all eight editions of Paddock Publications will be $4.00 a year.

Latest proposed increase in postal rates, if passed by the House, would mean an additional $600 annually in postal charges for Paddock Publications. Present costs are almost $2,000 annually.

Travel and adventure series again offered at adult evening school

The second season of the Travel and Adventure series offered in connection with the Adult Evening school at Arlington Heights township high school will feature five outstanding color film presentations with symphonic musical background. This series was extremely popular in its first season, and the current offering will include five evenings instead of the four that were offered last year.

Ray Eggersted will open the series October 15 and will present his new film on Mexico just produced this summer. Those who have seen the previews report it abounds in glorious color and depicts in a highly interesting manner the life and places of interest in Mexico. An appropriate musical background accompanies his lecture.

THE SECOND offering will be presented Tuesday, November 13, by Julian Gromer who will show his Hudson River film which also was made this last summer. Gromer is an outboard racing participant and took this trip and his pictures with his own boat starting at Lake Placid and proceeding down the historic Hudson river to its source. Julian Gromer's humor and dialogue together with his musical background is unsurpassed in the presentation of travelogue films.

A newcomer to the Travel and Adventure series this year will be Bob Hall who will bring his film lecture, "Japan After Conquest," to the auditorium of the Arlington Heights township high school Monday, December 3, at 8 p.m. With the current interest in Japan following the peace treaty signing and the probability of an increased tourist trade, this presentation should be outstanding. Bob Hall appears on many of the large lecture series from coast to coast.

Ray Eggersted will return to the series February 4, and will bring another new film just made this summer entitled, "Switzerland." Those who saw his pictures of the National Ski Contest at Aspen, Colo., in last year's series will have their breath taken away when they view his film on Switzerland. Ray has shown annually to large audiences in Orchestra Hall, Chicago, Civic Auditorium in Milwaukee, Shorewood, Wis., Cleveland, O., and many other places from coast to coast.

THE FINAL film lecture on the series will be given by another newcomer to our Travel and Adventure series in the person of Norman Hallock, who will bring his film entitled "The Athabaska Country" Monday evening, April 7. The Athabaska Country is one of America's last frontiers. In this territory is found the largest sheet of ice south of the Arctic Circle the bed of which is estimated to be 2,000 feet thick and covers an area of 150 square miles. From this Columbia Ice Cap flow rivers into the Atlantic, to the frozen wastes of the Arctic, and to the sunny slopes of the Pacific. This region is the heart of the Canadian Rockies.

Mr. Hallock's colored motion pictures take the audience from wooded valleys to the very pinnacles of lofty mountains. The picture abounds with animal life and human interest. The territory covered in this hour's lecture extends northward from Lake Louise along the new Banff-Jasper highway, and includes much of Jasper National Park.

Full description of the course will be included in the Adult Evening school bulletin which will be available shortly and will contain registration blanks for the course.

Business men vote on northside site for Arlington postoffice

Walter Hansen, secretary of Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, distributed last Friday ballots on which business men were asked to express their approval or disapproval to the location of a postoffice buidling at the rear of the Cook County Farm Bureau building.

A new post office building for Arlington Heights seems to be in the "cards" and if no complications set in the new building should be a reality before another year goes by.

The Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce has a post office committee hard at work on the promotion of a new post office. The committee has at present two local parties interested in the erection of these quarters. The two proposals are as follows: construction of a building on the south side of the business district at Sigwalt and S. Dunton sts.; or construction of a building on the north side business district on Miner st., between N. Dunton and N. Evergreen.

REALIZING the urgent need of adequate postal quarters necessary for efficient postal service, the Chamber had contacted T. H. Barkow, post office inspector, and informed him of the proposals. Due to the fact that the largest business area at present is located south of the North Western railroad tracks, he requested the post office committee to take a poll of Chamber of Commerce members as to the north side location.

The ballots did not carry an alternate site. Voters were simply asked their opinion in regard to the northside location. On the possibility that the north site is accepted a land survey is now being made by the owner as the first requisite of the post office department before there can be building conferences.

Approval of this location does not, however, mean that it will be the future site of a new post office building, but it does give the post office committee two proposals with which to work, increasing the possibility of obtaining their objective.

A third possible location is on the Redeker property west of the A & P store.

Palatine uses 4 churches for 2nd grade; continue rural schools

The much overcrowded conditions of Palatine schools have forced officials to lease space from four Palatine churches to house 160 second grade pupils.

The problem arose after school board officials learned that the high school addition would not be completed for at least two more months. It had previously been scheduled for completion on September 1 and officials had leased six rooms from the high school to be used as second grade rooms.

Last week, Superintendent Marion Jordan had announced that Camp Reinberg would be used for such purpose but it was believed at that time that the high school would be ready for occupancy in two weeks. Contractors then made a new estimate as to the completion date.

Plans were quickly revised and the second graders are now matriculating in the basement rooms of the Methodist church, St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed church, St. Phillip's Episcopal church, Northwest Bible church, and in two rooms in the old school building. One of the latter rooms formerly was allocated to the Parent-Teachers association.

SUPERINTENDENT Jordan was especially pleased with the co-operation of the clergy and church boards in reaching a somewhat amicable solution to a pressing problem.

"The churches not only offered the space but agreed to arrangements which enable the school to use their furnishings," he said.

He pointed out that parishioners of one church even donated rugs to place for a basement floor.

The new arrangement entails no revision of bus schedules because of the nearness of the churches to both the old and new school which are regular stops.

All "leased out" students can make use of the school cafeteria, Jordan said. Pupils in the old school also use the cafeteria.

Superintendent Jordan also released the total enrollment in Palatine grade schools which shows an increase of 62 pupils.

This year 1212 pupils have registered as compared with 1150 last year. He pointed out that the enrollment would probably increase to at least 1250 before the end of the school year.

At present kindergarten, first, sixth, seventh, and eighth grades are being held in the new school. The old school houses the third and fifth grade while the fourth grade has been "farmed out" to Wittenberg, Hillside and Bradwell school buildings.

Catch thieves who looted Wheeling home

Two young men who broke into the home of the William Karrys of Wheeling July 20, while they were on a vacation, were apprehended and arrested by the Northfield police Thursday.

They confessed burglarizing four North Shore homes and breaking into 15 parked automobiles in Chicago and on the North Shore. More than $1,000 in loot has been recovered, police said.

THEY ARE Richard Nickl, 17, of 2218 Waukegan rd., Glenview, and Ben Hugenin, 18, of 564 Provident rd., Winnetka. It appears that Nickl obtained addresses of homes to be burglarized when the people brought their dogs to his father's dog kennel when they left town.

Hugenin was arrested Wednesday when a tip was received by the Northfield police that he was seen with a pistol taken in a recent burglary. Police found the loot in the homes of the boys.

NORTHFIELD POLICE knowing that there had been a robbery in Wheeling, called in Chief Mackh to question the boys. They admitted to the Karry burglary after two hours of questioning.

The goods stolen and returned to the Karrys consisted of a clock radio, an electric drill and a pocket watch. An unsuccessful attempt had been made to remove the engraving on the watch.

Revocation of building permits brings quick action by home construction firm

Members of Arlington Heights village board, Building Commissioner Fred J. Hammer, Village Clerk Davis and others have been named in an injunction suit filed last week by Lorraine Homes, Inc. in the Circuit court of Cook county. The first hearing, held Tuesday before Judge Haas, was continued until Friday, with the suggestion that the two sides hold a conference and endeavor to reach a mutual agreement.

The filing of the suit followed the action of the village board on September 4 ordering the Lorraine Homes, Inc. to suspend building operations until the Arlington Heights board had an opportunity to investigate the complaint made by Al Perlin, spokesman for the Northwest Community Betterment group.

Perlin claimed that the village building code was being violated, in that more than two homes of the same architectural design are being erected in one block.

THE BUILDING firm was asked to attend a special board meeting to be held last Friday evening to further discuss the situation and to iron out existing problems.

The hall was well filled with spectators Friday night, but no representative of the Lorraine Homes, Inc. put in an appearance. Various village officials had received that afternoon notice from Attorney John Jursich Jr., that a million dollar lawsuit was about to be filed against them. (The notice received by Paddock Publications, Inc. as one of the defendants, appears in this week's Fence Post.)

The notice also stated that no representative would attend that evening's meeting. Members of the board held a lengthy conference and about 9:30 Mayor Goedke called the board to order and the following resolution was presented and unanimously passed:

"Whereas the president and board of trustees, having investigated the buildings being constructed by Lorraine Homes, Inc. in Arlington Heights and have found that such buildings do not conform to the building code requirements under Section 684½, 684-a, and 684-b, and in view of the fact that said Lorraine Homes, Inc. has failed to show any indication of a desire to cooperate with the said village board of trustees with a view to compliance with provisions of the municipal code;

"Now therefore be it resolved that all permits issued to Lorraine Homes, Inc., for buildings not yet completed or commenced, be and they are hereby revoked. Be it further resolved that said Lorraine Homes, Inc. be notified immediately of this action, and to cease further work on such buildings."

THE RESOLUTION brought almost instant action on the part of the building firm which filed an application for injunction, naming as defendants in addition to the officials above named, William F. Meyer, village treasurer; Romulo Becker, superintendent of water and streets; Hugo J. Thal, village attorney; and Carl Skoog, chief of police.

During the preliminary hearing Tuesday before Judge Haas the attorneys were directed by the judge to attempt an amicable settlement. They agreed to do so and were directed to report back Friday morning on the result.

ATTORNEY Jursich attended the supposedly "get together" meeting Tuesday evening. He offered no compromise, evidently standing pat on the previously stated position of the firm he represents. No progress can be reported, although efforts have since been made to contact the principals in the Lorraine Homes, Inc. in a new effort to talk things over. Although no contact with them has been reached as this paper goes to press, additional efforts will be made by the village on Thursday to have a "cease war" conference.

Mr. Jursich Jr., invited to state for publication a resume of the contentions of the building firm, writes:

Mayor Goedke Tuesday afternoon appealed to Mr. Miller of Lorraine Homes, Inc., for a final conference between principals Thursday morning in a last effort to reach agreement.

"In accordance with our telephone conversation, you may publish the following:

"The resolution adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights on September 7, 1951, is an outrageous and gross violation of the Constitution and laws of the State of Illinois.

"Our Constitution provides that no person shall be deprived of property without due process of law. One of the prerequisites of due process is notice—notice that the person is being deprived of its property. At no time has the Village of Arlington Heights given Lorraine Homes, Inc., notice that the permits would be revoked. Thus, the resolution of the Board of Trustees is wholly and utterly in violation of our Constitution.

"The resolution is also illegal because the laws of this State do not allow a municipality to revoke building permits for the reasons stated by the Village of Arlington Heights. Consequently, Lorraine Homes, Inc., is suffering a great injustice.

"Thank God that we have courts of equity which will rectify this tremendous injustice. The Honorable Judge Haas of the Superior Court of Cook county, has set the hearing for my prayer for an injunction over until September 14, 1951; until then, Judge Haas has allowed Lorraine Homes, Inc. to continue work without interference.

"Most important, however, is the fact that Lorraine Homes, Inc. has, to this date, complied 100 percent with the building code of Arlington Heights. This statement I have made, and will make again, under oath."

Following the court hearing Tuesday the village agreed to allow Lorraine Homes, Inc. to continue with its construction while awaiting the decision of Judge Haas, provided that if they are found to be in violation of provisions of the building code, they will subsequently make any necessary corrections.

PERMITS have been issued for a total of 76 homes during 1950 and 1951. Fifteen homes have not yet been started. Excavation has been made on two and foundations are completed on five others. Roofing and siding is completed on about 10 homes.

Mayor Goedke told the Herald Wednesday that he hopes a compromise can be found and that as presiding officer of the village he is ready to do his part.

"I recognize the attitude of the older residents in Arlington Park over the change in the architectural appearance of that area. To what extent architectural design of homes can be legislated in the area is a matter for Judge Haas to decide. The village board is ready to make the best possible bargain, and I hope that the building firm will meet with us around a conference table."

Baby sitter and boyfriend steal cash from Wheeling home

Police Chief Harold Mackh of Wheeling is being commended for the fine job he did in recovering nearly $200 cash, which was stolen from a Wheeling resident last week.

The resident was the victim of her 14 year old "baby sitter" and her boyfriend. The girl, hired to care for the children, asked her boyfriend in for the evening. The sitter spent the night at the victim's home. In the morning the lady of the house discovered that the cash she had in a drawer for deposit in the bank that day was gone.

She questioned the girl, who denied knowing anything about it. When asked if anyone else was at the house during the previous evening she said no.

The girl was sent home and Police Chief Mackh was notified. He checked with the girl and after an extensive talk got her to confess she had her boyfriend over and gave Chief Mackh his name. Further anvestigation showed the boy had a police record and it wasn't too long after that that the chief was able to get a confession.

Kiwanis to hold annual kid's day September 22

A special committee has been appointed to make plans for the annual Kid's day sponsored by the Arlington Heights Kiwanis club, which will be held September 22.

Donald R. Hartman, Kiwanis president, announces that Dr. Robert Balfour has been made chairman of the committee, and will be assisted by Chief of Police Carl H. Skoog, Dr. Cyrus E. Hill, Walter Hansen, Stephen Csanadi, Dr. Paul Bostian, William Pailey and E. W. Lindeman.

SATURDAY the Kiwanis will hold a special "tag" day to raise funds for underprivileged children in Arlington Heights. Dr. Balfour would like to stress that all funds collected will be kept in the village and will be used only for Arlington Heights children. The Kid's day buttons, which will be used instead of tags, will go on sale at 6 a. m.

This year's Kid's day will feature a special show at Arlington Theatre, complete with comedies, cartoons and a western. This is open to all children. Tickets, which will cost 25 cents, will go on sale at 12:45 p. m., September 22, and the show will begin at 1:30 p. m.

ANOTHER highlight of Kid's day will be the third annual parade of "Anything on Wheels," which will be held at 9:30 a. m. the same day. The parade will begin at the South school and end in the southside business district. Prizes will be awarded to boys and girls having the winning subject on wheels.

President Hartman said, "I hope the citizens of Arlington Heights will do everything in their power to make Kid's day a success. Remember, the children of today are the adults of tomorrow and the chance you give them now may well have a bearing on their future."

Hijackers nab $75,000 load from truck near Heights

The fast growing "trade" of hijacking struck locally, Monday morning of this week when $75,000 worth of clothing disappeared after a truck was stopped at the junction of routes 58 and 62, and the driver kidnapped for two hours.

The load of suits, dresses, lingerie, blouses and dry goods were en route from Block and Kuhl company of Peoria to its Winnetka store. When the driver, Chester Hauks of North Pekin, stopped for a stop sign at about 6:30 a.m., the four bandits moved in from both sides and forced the driver from the truck.

THEY BLINDFOLDED Hauks, covered him with a blanket on the floor of the car, then released him in the Camp Bemis woods of the forest preserve at 31st and Wolf rd. Hauks walked to the Bedford Park county police station and reported the theft.

The truck was later found, empty, at 3931 Woodland ave., Western Springs.

Edwin G. DeVries, 42, of Arlington airport, received bruises on his chest and left leg. Edmund Wernikowski, 39, of Des Plaines, sustained bruises on his arms. Both were treated by a physician.

According to Arlington police, Wernikowski, traveling west, stopped in the center lane to make a left turn at the viaduct and was rammed in the rear by DeVries.

Both cars were badly damaged and were towed to the Arlington Body and Fender shop.

Draft board hiding? Registrant wonders as he gets run around

"It took an hour of telephoning before we could find out where my 18 year old son had to report to register with his draft board," an aggravated Palatine mother told Paddock Publications Monday morning.

"We called the Palatine, Arlington and Des Plaines police and finally found the place through a telephone operator, and it even took her quite a long time to get the information," continued the mother.

At her suggestion Paddock Publications is publishing the address of the local draft board and its hours in order that other boys of draft age will not have the same difficulty. The local selective service board is located at 1503-A Ellinwood, Des Plaines, (next to the Studebaker garage) and its hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p. m. daily. The telephone number is Vanderbilt 4-1882.

Boys are given five days after they reach their eighteenth birthday to register for the draft.

INHALATOR AIDS BOY SUFFERING WITH ASTHMA

Arlington Heights firemen answered an inhalator call late Sunday night at the Hunter home, 940 N. Chestnut. Their young son was having a severe asthma attack and needed an inhalator to help him breathe. The equipment did the trick and the boy has recovered.

Senate votes 30% increase in newspaper rates

After two days of bitter debate, the U. S. Senate September 7 accepted practically all recommendations of the committee on post office as to postal rate revision. The bill, as approved and sent to the House, calls for a series of three annual step-ups of 10% in second-class rates for newspapers. The Senate adopted an amendement of Senator Russell Long, (D) La. raising the rates on periodicals by 20% for a total of 60% in three years.

The NEA sponsored joint committee on postal service (known as the Carlson resolution) was also approved. Periodical publishers have protested that this discriminatory motion is part and parcel of a broad plan for the classification of the press for regulatory purposes. Senator Tom Underwood (D) Ky., directed attention to the fact that: "The daily newspapers joined with the magazines in resisting a proposed 60% rate on the ground that they could not stand it."

The spokesmen for the Senate postal committee were hard pressed to retain the 10-10-10 rates whcih they had recommended in reporting S. 1046 to the Senate calendar. Underwood, former president of the Kentucky press association and a member of the committee, aided by Senator Frank Carlson (R) Kan. and committee chairman Olin Johnston, (D) S. C. led the defense of the committee's schedules for publications. An amendment by Senator Paul Douglas, (D) Ill. calling for a 60% instead of the total of 30% advocated by the committee was defeated by a narrow margin of 32 to 28. The Long amendment confirming the series of 20% raises to periodicals passed by a vote of 36 to 24.

With the exception of an item proposing restoration of full scale postal deliveries in residential areas and doubling the rates on periodicals, S. 1046 as reported from the Committee was approved without change. A "rider" having no relation to postal rates was attached as a parliamentary method of forcing a House vote in graduated leave for government employees. It is expected that the House will vote on H. R. 2982 and all amendments not later than September 21.

New owners of L&L service station

The L. & L. service station, 134 W. Northwest highway, formerly owned by James Ladd, has been purchased by Arthur H. Behrens and Edwin C. Behrens.

Arthur has formerly been employed as a mechanic at Lattof Motor Sales. He has had 20 years experience on automobile repairing. Edwin C. Behrens has worked at Janesville Chevrolet plant and has worked his farm near Evansville. He formerly was from Arlington Heights.

The station will continue under the name of L. & L.

Subscription rates $4 starting October 1

Effective October 1, 1951, yearly subscription rates of all eight editions of Paddock Publications will be $4.00 a year.

Latest proposed increase in postal rates, if passed by the House, would mean an additional $600 annually in postal charges for Paddock Publications. Present costs are almost $2,000 annually.

Travel and adventure series again offered at adult evening school

The second season of the Travel and Adventure series offered in connection with the Adult Evening school at Arlington Heights township high school will feature five outstanding color film presentations with symphonic musical background. This series was extremely popular in its first season, and the current offering will include five evenings instead of the four that were offered last year.

Ray Eggersted will open the series October 15 and will present his new film on Mexico just produced this summer. Those who have seen the previews report it abounds in glorious color and depicts in a highly interesting manner the life and places of interest in Mexico. An appropriate musical background accompanies his lecture.

THE SECOND offering will be presented Tuesday, November 13, by Julian Gromer who will show his Hudson River film which also was made this last summer. Gromer is an outboard racing participant and took this trip and his pictures with his own boat starting at Lake Placid and proceeding down the historic Hudson river to its source. Julian Gromer's humor and dialogue together with his musical background is unsurpassed in the presentation of travelogue films.

A newcomer to the Travel and Adventure series this year will be Bob Hall who will bring his film lecture, "Japan After Conquest," to the auditorium of the Arlington Heights township high school Monday, December 3, at 8 p.m. With the current interest in Japan following the peace treaty signing and the probability of an increased tourist trade, this presentation should be outstanding. Bob Hall appears on many of the large lecture series from coast to coast.

Ray Eggersted will return to the series February 4, and will bring another new film just made this summer entitled, "Switzerland." Those who saw his pictures of the National Ski Contest at Aspen, Colo., in last year's series will have their breath taken away when they view his film on Switzerland. Ray has shown annually to large audiences in Orchestra Hall, Chicago, Civic Auditorium in Milwaukee, Shorewood, Wis., Cleveland, O., and many other places from coast to coast.

THE FINAL film lecture on the series will be given by another newcomer to our Travel and Adventure series in the person of Norman Hallock, who will bring his film entitled "The Athabaska Country" Monday evening, April 7. The Athabaska Country is one of America's last frontiers. In this territory is found the largest sheet of ice south of the Arctic Circle the bed of which is estimated to be 2,000 feet thick and covers an area of 150 square miles. From this Columbia Ice Cap flow rivers into the Atlantic, to the frozen wastes of the Arctic, and to the sunny slopes of the Pacific. This region is the heart of the Canadian Rockies.

Mr. Hallock's colored motion pictures take the audience from wooded valleys to the very pinnacles of lofty mountains. The picture abounds with animal life and human interest. The territory covered in this hour's lecture extends northward from Lake Louise along the new Banff-Jasper highway, and includes much of Jasper National Park.

Full description of the course will be included in the Adult Evening school bulletin which will be available shortly and will contain registration blanks for the course.

Diary tells story of the 1864 Sherman march to the sea

Way-Back-When will start the publication next week of the diary of a member of the Union Army who participated in the renowned "Gen. Sherman's March to the Sea."

The diary is a first hand story of war as it was experienced 90 years ago. It was just as terrible then without atom bombs, air attacks, and liquid fire such as 1951 soldiers are experiencing in Korea.

Sgt. Alfred Lamb, grandfather of Lester Bennett, 931 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, wrote in his diary every Sunday. Readers will find it intensely interesting. It will be published with few deletions.

Business men vote on northside site for Arlington postoffice

Walter Hansen, secretary of Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, distributed last Friday ballots on which business men were asked to express their approval or disapproval to the location of a postoffice building at the rear of the Cook County Farm Bureau building.

A new post office building for Arlington Heights seems to be in the "cards" and if no complications set in the new building should be a reality before another year goes by.

The Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce has a post office committee hard at work on the promotion of a new post office. The committee has at present two local parties interested in the erection of these quarters. The two proposals are as follows: construction of a building on the south side of the business district at Sigwalt and S. Dunton sts.; or construction of a building on the north side business district on Miner st., between N. Dunton and N. Evergreen.

REALIZING the urgent need of adequate postal quarters necessary for efficient postal service, the Chamber had contacted T. H. Barkow, post office inspector, and informed him of the proposals. Due to the fact that the largest business area at present is located south of the North Western railroad tracks, he requested the post office committee to take a poll of Chamber of Commerce members as to the north side location.

The ballots did not carry an alternate site. Voters were simply asked their opinion in regard to the northside location. On the possibility that the north site is accepted a land survey is now being made by the owner as the first requisite of the post office department before there can be building conferences.

Approval of this location does not, however, mean that it will be the future site of a new post office building, but it does give the post office committee two proposals with which to work, increasing the possibility of obtaining their objective.

A third possible location is on the Redeker property west of the A & P store.

Palatine uses 4 churches for 2nd grade; continue rural schools

The much overcrowded conditions of Palatine schools have forced officials to lease space from four Palatine churches to house 160 second grade pupils.

The problem arose after school board officials learned that the high school addition would not be completed for at least two more months. It had previously been scheduled for completion on September 1 and officials had leased six rooms from the high school to be used as second grade rooms.

Last week, Superintendent Marion Jordan had announced that Camp Reinberg would be used for such purpose but it was believed at that time that the high school would be ready for occupancy in two weeks. Contractors then made a new estimate as to the completion date.

Plans were quickly revised and the second graders are now matriculating in the basement rooms of the Methodist church, St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed church, St. Phillip's Episcopal church, Northwest Bible church, and in two rooms in the old school building. One of the latter rooms formerly was allocated to the Parent-Teachers association.

SUPERINTENDENT Jordan was especially pleased with the co-operation of the clergy and church boards in reaching a somewhat amicable solution to a pressing problem.

"The churches not only offered the space but agreed to arrangements which enable the school to use their furnishings," he said.

He pointed out that parishioners of one church even donated rugs to place for a basement floor.

The new arrangement entails no revision of bus schedules because of the nearness of the churches to both the old and new school which are regular stops.

All "leased out" students can make use of the school cafeteria, Jordan said. Pupils in the old school also use the cafeteria.

Superintendent Jordan also released the total enrollment in Palatine grade schools which shows an increase of 62 pupils.

This year 1212 pupils have registered as compared with 1150 last year. He pointed out that the enrollment would probably increase to at least 1250 before the end of the school year.

At present kindergarten, first, sixth, seventh, and eighth grades are being held in the new school. The old school houses the third and fifth grade while the fourth grade has been "farmed out" to Wittenberg, Hillside and Bradwell school buildings.

Return of the Prodigal

A remarkable wall painting of the story of the Prodigal Son, probably dating back to the time of Queen Elizabeth, has been discovered in England beneath paneling. The blues, reds and yellows in the mural are almost as fresh as when they were painted.

Formulate plans for new school for Forest View

Officials at Forest View school on S. State rd. are planning to institute double sessions and employ another teacher to alleviate overcrowded conditions.

Long range plans call for the erection of a $40,000 addition to the present school building.

Enrollment at the school which serves school district 56, has already reached 35. It is estimated that at least eight more pupils will enroll within the next two weeks.

Ruth Barchman has been teaching the eight grades contained in the one-room school since the opening session. She has been substituting for Mabelle Kincaid, the regular teacher who has been ill.

Officials will meet Thursday night at the school and it is expected that the board will okay the hiring of the substitute teacher full time.

PRESENT PLANS also call for double sessions. A morning session 8 a. m. to noon for 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th graders, and an afternoon session—12:30 to 4:30 p. m.—for the lower grades.

S. G. Swanson also announced that plans are being formulated to erect an addition to the present building. It was pointed out that next year's enrollment will surpass this year's record enrollment.

A survey taken recently shows that 174 children of school age live in district 56. However, most of them attend parochial schools.

Swanson said that the board (Swanson, Dan Gould and William Grismer) has decided to enlarge the present building rather than annex to the Arlington school district. He said the high cost of taxation that would result from the annexation and the overcrowded conditions in the Arlington system motivated the action.

"An informal meeting was held sometime ago at South school (Arlington) and at that time annexation was voided as the possible solution," Swanson said.

He added, "Besides the consensus of opinion has been that it would be better to enlarge our own school."

First Record

A Chicago newspaperman named Charles Fitzmorris broke all records by making a trip around the world in about 60½ days in 1901.

Formulate plans for new school for Forest View

Officials at Forest View school on S. State rd. are planning to institute double sessions and employ another teacher to alleviate overcrowded conditions.

Long range plans call for the erection of a $40,000 addition to the present school building.

Enrollment at the school which serves school district 56, has already reached 35. It is estimated that at least eight more pupils will enroll within the next two weeks.

Ruth Barchman has been teaching the eight grades contained in the one-room school since the opening session. She has been substituting for Mabelle Kincaid, the regular teacher who has been ill.

Officials will meet Thursday night at the school and it is expected that the board will okay the hiring of the substitute teacher full time.

PRESENT PLANS also call for double sessions. A morning session 8 a. m. to noon for 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th graders, and an afternoon session—12:30 to 4:30 p. m.—for the lower grades.

S. G. Swanson also announced that plans are being formulated to erect an addition to the present building. It was pointed out that next year's enrollment will surpass this year's record enrollment.

A survey taken recently shows that 174 children of school age live in district 56. However, most of them attend parochial schools.

Swanson said that the board (Swanson, Dan Gould and William Grismer) has decided to enlarge the present building rather than annex to the Arlington school district. He said the high cost of taxation that would result from the annexation and the overcrowded conditions in the Arlington system motivated the action.

"An informal meeting was held sometime ago at South school (Arlington) and at that time annexation was voided as the possible solution," Swanson said.

He added, "Besides the consensus of opinion has been that it would be better to enlarge our own school."

A Chicago newspaperman named Charles Fitzmorris broke all records by making a trip around the world in about 60½ days in 1901.

Evening guild of St. John's to open fall season

The first fall meeting of the Evening Guild of St. John's Episcopal church, Mt. Prospect, will be held September 19 at 8 p. m. in the Mt. Prospect village hall.

Changing from the schedule of previous years, the meetings of the Guild during the coming year will take place on the third Wednesday evening of each month at the Mt. Prospect Village hall in the same room on the second floor used by the St. John's Sunday school.

The dance, sponsored by the Evening Guild November 23 at the Elmhurst Country club, will be discussed. Mrs. R. E. Gerrard and members of her ways and means committee have been working during the summer on preliminary plans for the dance.

The remainder of the meeting will be devoted to a social get-together. Hostesses will be Mrs. Ralph Van Middlesworth, chairman, and other members of the social committee. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to any women new in the community. Anyone desiring further information should call Mrs. Walter E. Belcher at Arlington Heights 2210-J.

Conservation and garden group plan program

MRS. GEORGE GLOW
Community Camera

Mrs. George Glow is the chairman of the conservation and garden study group of the Arlington Heights Woman's club. Her program includes talks on conservation and demonstrations of flower arrangement and decorations by women who are well known to the club and the community for their beautiful decorations. A tour of Amling's Flowerland is also on the agenda.

Horticulturists from the Chicago Park district will speak at two of the meetings. One of them is Henry P. Zmich, whose subject will be "General Outdoor Gardening."

One of the club's own members, Mrs. Sheridan T. Winter, will demonstrate and speak on "Flower Arrangement." Mrs. Edwin Haberkamp of the Haberkamp Florists will again present a program on Christmas decorations, which aroused a great deal of interest in these seasonal decorations last year.

The objectives of this study group include: Informing the community on conservation, encouraging interest in gardening of all types, stimulating interest in natural resources and promoting beautification of the community.

Therefore, the program has been planned to cover all these objectives and other topics of interest to garden lovers.

The group will tour Amling's sometime in April. The exact date will be announced later. Committee members are Mrs. Adolph Wiegand, vice-chairman, Mrs. Frank E. Wood, Mrs. Ira Parker, Mrs. John Solon and Mrs. H. T. Thompson. Monthly meetings are held in the morning, and the first will be October 11.

Mrs. Glow has been active in this study group for the past two years and was also chairman last year.

Square dance instructions for beginners

A beginners' class in square dancing has been planned by the Palatine Square Dance club. The first class will be held September 19 at the Palatine Consolidated grade school from 8 to 11 p. m.

Alvin and Helen Weitzel will be the instructors for both square and folk dancing. Meetings will be held the first and third Wednesday of each month.

The classes are open to the public and everyone is invited.

Guitar teacher at School of Music

Clarence Roznak has been teaching at the Arlington School of Music, 10 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights, for the past year, but this is the first opportunity the school has had to introduce him photographically to the public.

Roznak came to the school fully trained in the modern use of the Spanish guitar and Hawaiian guitar. Many years of experience with show troops and cabaret type vaudeville has provided Roznak with a thorough knowledge of what the young inspiring guitarist or banjoist must learn. His scholastic training was with Senor Joseph De Piano, who is now president of the Modern Conservatory of Music in Chicago.

A musically inclined child should be given an opportunity to learn one of these romantic stringed instruments. The Arlington School of Music has instruments to rent during the experimental stages. Laverne Levine is director of the school.

Choir concert to be given in Arlington

The choir of the Prospect Heights Community church will give their first fall concert at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church in Arlington Heights Sunday, September 23, at 8 p. m.

The choir started last spring to give a series of concerts to start an organ fund for the new church which is in the process of construction.

Engaged

Mrs. Robert F. La Mar of Mt. Prospect announces the engagement of her daughter, Barbara Ann, to Robert L. Daggett, airman apprentice U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Daggett, Long Beach, Michigan City, Ind. The Daggetts are former residents of Arlington Heights.

Hold card parties for Episcopal foundation

Plans are underway for a series of card parties to be held this fall in various cities and towns all the way from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi river. Taking an active part in these plans is St. John's Episcopal church, Mt. Prospect.

Representatives from the Evening guild of St. John's met with representatives from St. Martin's of Des Plaines, St. Gile's of Northbrook and St. Mary's of Park Fidge at St. Mary's July 24. From the combined planning of that meeting and others following will come an afternoon of cards, refreshments and fellowship for the members and friends of six Episcopal congregations, with St. Mary's, Park Ridge, acting as the hostess church.

THE EXECUTIVE committee of the evening division of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Chicago met with representatives from numerous Chicago and out-of-town parishes at St. Mark's, Evanston, June 28. Fifteen of the churches of the diocese will serve as hostess churches. The congregations and friends of more than 100 Episcopal churches and missions will attend the party of the hostess church nearest to their own parishes.

These parties are being held to raise funds for the Bishop McLaren Foundation. Located at Sycamore, Ill., McLaren Foundation is a group of four buildings in a rustic setting and has been serving the Diocese of Chicage for a number of years as a place for conferences for clergy, lay groups and youth groups; for retreats for men, women and youth; and for schools of instruction for clergy and lay groups. Rehabilitation of the old buildings, which once housed an Episcopal private school, has been going on for some time, and gradually the Foundation has become an ideal spot for the many meetings that take place there.

There is still need for further improvements at McLaren Foundation and the continuation and expansion of its work calls for support from every church in the diocese.

Evanston superintendent to be guest speaker at PTA meeting

DR. O. M. CHUTE

The superintendent of one of America's best modern school systems will talk at the Arlington Heights Parent-Teacher association, which will be held Tuesday, at 8 p. m. at the South school. Mrs. Nat Burfeind, new president of the association, will preside.

Mrs. M. L. Kurtz has announced that the program committee has selected as the theme for this year, "Making Education YOUR Business." Questionnaires returned last spring indicated that parents would like to know what methods of teaching are used in classrooms today, what special education programs are employed and how parents can fit into the education program. The program committee felt that in order to "Make Education YOUR Business," one must first understand modern education.

DR. O. M. CHUTE, superintendent of the Community Consolidated schools of Evanston, comes to the association well qualified to speak on "Understanding Modern Education."

He received his Bachelor degree from Coly college, Waterville, Maine, his Masters degree from Harvard university and his Dr. of Education degree from the University of Illinois. With his experience as a teacher, coach, principal and superintendent of both public and high schools in the states of Massachusetts and Illinois, Dr. Chute is especially equipped to speak on the subject.

He has been director of teacher training at Northern Illinois State Teachers college, DeKalb, and served his country in 1944-45 in the Army Air force.

This meeting should prove to be interesting and enlightening. Besides an excellent speaker, this meeting will be in the nature of a reception for the members of the board of education and the teaching staff, who will be presented.

THE FOURTH week in September has been scheduled for the "Get Acquainted" meetings sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association board, in honor of the room mothers and teachers. Due to the large number of teachers this year, there will be three meetings instead of one large one, so that everyone may get better acquainted.

The meeting for the South school will be Monday, September 24, at eight p. m. Mrs. Richard Johnston is school mother. September 26 is the date set for the North school, with Mrs. C. H. Rosene, school mother. Mrs. Frederick Siegel is school mother for the Junior High group whose meeting will be held Thursday, September 27. Refreshments will be served by members of the PTA board.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

One look at the Community calendar, and it's obvious that autumn has come to Arlington Heights. Activities galore are already listed, with many more coming up soon.

The Antique and Hobby show, ending today at the Methodist Meeting house, is always a harbinger of goings-on to come. Traditionally the fall season is ushered in by this, one of the outstanding events in the northwest suburbs.

The Newcomer's club, too, after a summer of, for them, relative inactivity will resume regular meetings. The board is meeting tonight, Thursday, at the home of the secretary, Mrs. Frank Kroll, to make plans for the coming events.

The teacher-parent organizations, like the PTA and the Mother's clubs of the two parochial schools, take their cue from the opening of school, and renew their schedules in September. The St. James mothers will get the jump on the other two groups by holding their first meeting tonight, Thursday, at the field house.

Village Theatre tryouts last Sunday, for their fall show to be given November 2 and 3, put the local thespians back to work. The play, "Dear Ruth," will be given at the Presbyterian church.

The same old problem will soon face us—if it doesn't right now—and that's how to find a spare evening to stay home and get caught up on one's sleep!

Hmm, good

The combination of a cold evening, a warm fire, good fellowship—and corn roasted in the coals—made the traditional corn roast of the Presbyterian Young Married Couples club an occasion to be remembered.

The Charles Jevnes and Ernie Robbs, hosts for the occasion, prepared and cooked the corn and baked cakes for the 35 to 40 members and guests who were present Friday night.

Appetites were whetted — if they needed it—by a necessarily brief twilight game of baseball. The corn roast was one of the series of summer picnics of the YMC, and in October they resume their regular monthly wintertime pot luck suppers at the church.

Peak of popularity

The one person, probably, that the members of the Arlington Heights Community Concert association especially wanted on their program is coming this year, and, of course, that's Gladys Swarthout.

It's not that Miss Swarthout is necessarily the best singer or has the greatest voice; it's simply that her appeal and fame are such that she typifies the concert stage. She'll appear in Arlington Heights October 14, as the first attraction of the season.

Others on the concert association's well-rounded program are Bartlett and Robinson, noted duo-pianists; Ossay Renardy, violinist, and the Men of Song.

Members joined the Community Concert association during last spring's membership drive, and only those holding season tickets may attend.

Sister Mary Joellen takes first vows

Miss Barbara Anne Papineau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Papineau of Kirchhoff rd., Arlington Heights, received the habit of the Sisters of St. Joseph August 15 at the 10 a. m. ceremony held in the chapel of Our Lady of Bethlehem Academy, La Grange.

Miss Papineau, who was graduated from Nazareth Academy in 1950, received the name of Sister Mary Joellen.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Papineau and Miss Lorine Undem of New York left for a vacation. Their itinerary included Yellowstone Park, the Black Hills and the Bad Lands. They returned home through Montana and Minneapolis, where they visited friends for a few days.

Three injured Sunday and Saturday in crashes

Three persons were injured in northwest suburban traffic during the week end, Cook county highway police reported.

Mrs. Grace Catalano, 50, of Chicago, was injured late Sunday afternoon when the auto in which she was riding was involved in an accident at Dundee and Sanders rds.

Sheriff's police said she was riding in an auto driven by Phillip Catalano, 69, of Chicago. They identified the driver of the other car as Arthur Tansor, 25, of Chicago.

Elmer Dolezal, 43, and Dorothy Beurket, 47, both of Fox River Grove, were injured early Saturday evening in an accident at Rtes. 72 and 53.

Police said that both were riding in an automobile driven by the Beurket woman which collided with a car driven by Frank Dudziak, 30, of Chicago.

LOCAL SCHOOLS START FOOTBALL SLATES THIS WEEK-END

Arlington to test Downers in 1st West Suburban

by BOB PADDOCK

Arlington Heights high school gridders will open the West Suburban conference campaign Friday night when they oppose Downers Grove on the home field. A double-header is on the docket for fans with the first game, a frosh-soph encounter, slated for 6:15.

Just how the local Cardinals will stand up on the gridiron against the faster competition provided this year since entrance into the West Suburban loop is the big question. But Downers certainly rates as a "good starter" for Heights.

The DuPage county eleven had a 2-6 record last year and are aiming to break even this season. Arlington has five lettermen while Downers has six.

IN THIS CATEGORY, though, the southern squad must be conceded the edge. They have in Ed Zagol and Harvey Ogren two tackles of almost equal ability able to play at either position.

Bob Barus, quarterbacking for Downers, Ray Tennery at left end, and Joe Schumacker at center are other visiting veterans. Howard McClees, the other letterman, will probably not see action due to an injury.

Arlington has a slight edge in weight, if advance reports of the two coaches involved are accurate. Sometimes, though, it has been known that certain boys "put on weight" between lineup posting and game time.

STARTING FOR Heights will be Eakins, Ragland and the two Theis boys in the backfield; Ray Hinneberg and Bob Simmons at the ends; Rezek and Cooper at the tackles; Leckband and Grace or Sander at the guards. Either Intravartolo or Rickert will center for Coach Ormsbee's squad.

Conference schedule supposedly does not start for another two weeks but scheduling difficulties necessitated the Downers game, originally slated for October 12 at Arlington, to be moved up to this week.

Coaching the Downers aggregation is Jim Stahl, while opposing him will be Arlington's "Bus" Ormsbee.

HALFTIME FESTIVITIES Friday night include the football band under the direction of Robert Meredith. They will play several numbers and present a limited program due to just one week's practice prior to the opener.

Occupying the limelight between halves will be the "Swing Queens," group of 42 girls twirling batons in many varied formations. They will be seen at each game, with 18 of them performing a few routines this week.

Miss Patricia Schipper, girls' physical education instructor at Arlington, and Fredrick Schmoyer have charge of the class.

Unusual aspect of the halftime entertainment will be a trampoline demonstration by Gaylord Hughes, gymnastics instructor at Arlington Heights high school. Hughes was CAAU gymnastics champ in '44, and NCAA trampoline champ in 1948. He was on the University of Illinois gymnastics and swimming teams four years.

This is the first year a full time gymnastics program has been conducted at Arlington Heights. At present, until the new gym is completed, the program is limited.

TICKETS for the Downers Grove game and season ducats are on sale at both the high school and Millay's. Single game prices are 50c for students, 80c for adults, $1.10 for reserved seats. A saving of 50c can be made on the latter by purchasing a season reserved seat for $5.00.

Matinees at roller rink

The Arlington roller rink has resumed matinee skating. It is open Saturday afternoons from 1:30 to 4:30, and Sunday afternoons from 1:30 to 5.

Only coaches and players on the bench

That only coaches and players will be allowed on the bench at Arlington Heights high school athletic contests was made known this week when athletic director Wally Grace received notice of the West Suburban conference rule regarding this.

It seems that in the past some alumni sat on or next to the bench to help pep up and spread confidence among the squad. They were interested in the squad and doing everything they could to bring winning teams to the school.

THIS YEAR, however, such action is taboo. Arlington Heights must necessarily abide by the league rules prohibiting anyone from sitting on or next to the bench other than actual players and coaches.

"To avoid embarrassment;" said Grace, "we're publicizing the exact qualifications of persons allowed immediately adjacent to the playing field, according to conference rules.

"On the bench are to be found substitutes, coach, assistant coach, team physician and two managers. Adjacent to the playing field are allowed one reporter, one photographer, public address man, two spotters, one down marker, and two chain boys."

Mt. Prospects' Walt Beckman letterman returning to DeKalb

Over forty freshmen are on hand for the opening week of football practice at Northern Illinois State, constituting the largest and most promising group of first-year hopefuls ever to appear at the college.

Seventeen letter-winners, returning from last season's Huskie squad, are finding keen competition from the freshman group. Many of the positions are "wide open," according to head coach "Chick" Evans, who is relying heavily on the help he can get form the frosh.

Only three experienced offensive backs are on the 1951 squad. Bob Heimerdinger, national total offense leader last fall, is back to direct Huskie activities from his quarterback spot. Jack Pheanis, Chicago Heights halfback, and Dick Schmidt, Riverside fullback, are the other two returning numeral winners.

The guard position appears a little stronger with five returning lettermen. Included is Walt Beckman, Mt. Prospect senior, appearing strongest at this position.

Changes in the football rules are very limited this year but there is one change in which we have a special interest. So many schools have no barrier around their playing field to keep spectators off the playing area and thus protect the players and spectators from injury. Even after discussion in Northwest conference principals' meetings there is no action to keep the crowd off the field at some schools. The new rule requires a barrier at least five yards from the gridiron all the way around the field and specifies that no one but coaches, players, team attendants, and officials may be permitted inside the barrier. An added rule is a good one also which locates a coaches' box between the two 30-yard lines and not closer than two yards to the field in which coaches, substitutes, and attendants must stay during the game.

In too many small schools the facilities are such that substitutes cannot sit on the bench and see the game because of spectators standing in front of them. It just requires a more orderly procedure in holding football games. This requirement is not going to cost a school much financially and is necessary for handling the crowds which come out to school games, especially those held at night.

Official decides upon ball if no prior arrangements made

Another change states that unless the color of the ball has been decided upon in advance by the two coaches the referee shall specify the playing ball to be tan in color with a one inch white stripe located one inch from each end of the lace. This avoids arguments about the ball for night games and the home team must have the type of ball described available if the official calls for it. This year any number of substitutes may be sent into the game when the ball is dead, but replaced players must be off the field before play is resumed.

The forward pass interference rule has been changed to allow an official to rule interference any time a player disregards the ball entirely and directs all his attention to hinder an eligible receiver's view of the ball or stops short, causing the reciever to detour, even though there is no actual contact between the players. Other rules changes are of minor importance and of a technical type of no interest or importance to the average fan.

Two transfer students bolster Barrington grid chances

One of the reasons Barrington and Grant have been top football teams in the Northwest conference the last three years is the good transfer players that have come to them from other schools. Last year Bob Krueger came to Grant from Chicago and made all conference half back. Dan Osinski moved from Wauconda to Barrington and was all-league quarterback in football, forward in basketball, and pitcher in baseball.

This year Barrington has two new athletes expected to supply just what the Bronchos need to keep their championship string going through the fourth straight year. Bob Bentley, 195 pound fullback, has moved to Barrington from Taylorville, Ill. and as a junior looks like a powerhouse. Douglas Stephensen, a fast 175 pound tackle, has moved in from Lake Geneva giving Barrington much needed line speed.

The appearance of these two new boys on the Barrington practice field was a pleasant surprise for Coach Tom Frederick who was going to have a tough time replacing boys like Roake, Osinski, Hartwig, Disney, Hansen, Popp, and Andrae, the seven graduating regulars.

Football not more dangerous even though insurance rates rise

Most of the schools in Illinois carry athletic insurance for their boys with the non-profit Illinois education association's Horace Mann mutual insurance company. This year we, with others, were dumfounded at the great increase in rates but were told that football claims last year were 50% more than the premium paid by the schools. Of course no company can operate under such terms.

For example, at Palatine last year it cost $450 for insurance for all athletes in all sports under maximum coverage in a plan where all students had also paid 60 cents premium in their activity fee. This year the pupil rate went up to 65 cents and the flat fee for athletic coverage for all boys in sports jumped to $765.

Schools are not obligated in any way by law to pay medical expenses of boys engaged in athletics or any other school activities. This is a parental responsibility. However, having the boys insured certainly does increase the number out for football and decrease parental objection to contact sports.

One of the reasons there are so many football claims is that the insurance covers x-rays and office calls for diagnosis of possible injuries. Many of the claims are for this sort of service. The coach does not know the extent of the injury or its seriousness because he is not a doctor. To be on the safe side he sends the boy for an examination and possibly an x-ray. This is a real safety angle to the insurance coverage and many possible compound fractures or serious internal injury complications are avoided.

We think the great increase in claims is due to this coverage and not to an increase in fractures, concussions, dislocations, etc. The high school team of today is equipped better from the standpoint of pads for safety than was the college team of a decade ago. If coupled with this the coaching is such as to thoroughly condition and coordinate boys before they are permitted to scrimmage the chance of serious injury in football is held to a minimum.

Warren may provide test of Palatine hopes

Friday afternoon Palatine boys get their first grid test at Warren in an afternoon game starting at 3:30. The power packed Pirate eleven looks like a comer in the Northwest conference race which opens September 21 and Friday's tussle which should indicate if Palatine is really as good as is claimed.

Coach Dick Welty has the best backfield talent ever to represent Palatine with two deep in classy talent at each position. Don Zoellick and Bob Dejka alternated at quarterback as juniors and are both much improved. Bob Ward, shifted from end, is the talk of the Palatine practices with his hard shifty running at right half. Bob Meyer and Gerry Schwingel are lettermen who are pushing Ward for a starting berth. At left half Burton Nessett, a letterman, and Paul Schrage, a star of last year's frosh-sophs, are the chief competitors for a starting berth and both are good boys.

DAN DAY, Palatine's best candidate for all-league honors, is going great at fullback. Bob Lorden and Harlan Gephart are big juniors who are finding it hard to compete with the smaller but harder hitting veteran Day. Ken Rehusch is another promising junior who is being groomed for quarterback duties.

In the line Palatine has a weight average just slightly under 180. Dick Abrahamson 175 and Walter Grever 195 are six foot two inch ends who won letters last year. Bob Burden and John Busch are good replacements.

Jim Hillesheim 195 and Frank Hummel 185 are veteran tackles with Don Kincaid 185 and Gene Holtzee 220 the chief competition. Harry Frette 160 and George Gunder 170 are experienced guards with Wilmer Dreyer and Walter Swanson replacements. At center Welty has three good boys in lettermen Ken Mangels 175 and Tom Smith 160 and a good junior, Chuck James, who also plays guard.

Next week Palatine will open the conference season at home in a doubleheader with Wauconda starting at 6:30 at Palatine Community Park.

Cross Country at Coe

On this year's cross country team at Coe college in Iowa is Verne Busse of Arlington Hts.

Three more exhibitions on tap for the Bears

Three games in eight days — that is the job ahead for the Chicago Bears in their quest for a team unit ever since the Cleveland Brown embarrassment at Soldier Field Sunday in which the windy city boys succumbed, 32-21.

Three pass interceptions and two fumbles, all in the first half, didn't help much Sunday when the Bears appeared to have plenty of men running back and forth but not a team.

That final quarter when the Chicagoans tallied thrice against the champs showed the Bears still can go somewhere if provided the zest to do it.

Three more exhibition games before the season's opener at Green Bay September 30 will provide coach George Halas with more information on what twelve men, rookies or veterans, to send back home. Those games are:

Saturday, September 15, Philadelphia Eagles at Philadelphia, 8:00.

Wednesday, September 19, Washington Redskins at Kansas City, 8:00.

Sunday, September 23, Pittsburgh Steelers at Pittsburgh, 2:00.

60 entries for 32 mile bike race September 23

Over 60 entries have been received for the annual Mt. Prospect bike race slated for Sunday, September 23, with two laps around a 16 mile course planned.

The cyclists will start on Main street in Mt. Prospect, west to Northwest highway, west to Hick's road in Palatine, north to Dundee road, east to Rand road, southeast to route 83, thence south to Main street in Mt. Prospect. The course will be repeated to make the required 32 miles.

Northwest Cycle and Supply company, in conjunction with the Edison Park Wheelmen, is sponsoring the race. It will be sanctioned by the amateur bicycle league of America. Starting time is 2 p. m.

TICKET PRICE ERROR

It was erroneously stated in last week's sport page that single game admissions to Arlington Heights home football games were 50c and 30c.

Actually, prices are 80c for adults and 50c for students. Reserved seats are $1.10 with season reserved seats selling at Millay's and high school office for $5.00 for the five home contests.

Prospects bright at Grant; Palatine and Bensenville in non-league openers

by G. A. McELROY

Last year Coach Dan Werhan had one of the finest football teams ever to represent Grant High in Fox Lake. Saturday night when Grant is host to Grayslake in a non-conference opener there will be 11 lettermen seeing action and two are all-conference performers. Grant lost only one game last year and that to Barrington's best team by a 13-7 score.

Heading the Grant team which is expected to push Barrington just as hard again this year are Roger Smith, all-conference center, and Jim Kramer, all league halfback. Then add to those stars Stu Koutney and Don Wehrstein who alternated at quarterback last year and you have the nucleus of a fast and powerful team.

Grant will have the most backfield speed of any team in the league. Added to the three stars previously mentioned are fullback Jim Lumber, 185 pound fullback, and Tom Owen, small 140 pound scat back who can really step.

THAT ALL important position of tackle will be well handled by three giant lettermen in George Vermillion weighing 210, Jim Jensen 190, and Bill Swanson 185. Werhan will have two capable guards who are small but fast in Roy Rosing 155 and Gordon Cole 150. One of the best of the sophomore crop is a 210 pound lad named White who will see plenty of varsity action.

Coach Werhan has a number of promising candidates who moved to Fox Lake this year but he comments that they are big but green. Grant has 85 boys out for football and the school enrollment has mushroomed to 540, way out in front of the other Northwest conference schools.

THE NORTHWEST conference season opens September 21 and this week end most of the schools will be engaging in non-league competition. Heading the schedule will be the game at Barrington Saturday afternoon at 2:00 where Libertyville will try to break the long Broncho winning streak of 24 straight games. The Wildcats are touted as a strong veteran club capable of whipping Barrington.

Coach Tom Fredrick is plenty worried about this opener for he has been having trouble developing a capable team field general at quarterback. Barrington is big and has excellent replacements at every position except the quarterback spot, and are rated by most experts as a two touchdown choice.

Wauconda with a new coach will play against Maryville at Des Plaines Saturday afternoon. Last year Maryville beat the Bulldogs in a free scoring game but Wauconda will have a veteran team capable of taking its share this year.

FRIDAY afternoon Palatine will play at Warren High in Gurnee at 3:30. Warren was beaten by two touchdowns by the Pirates last season when they had a young green team. Warren will be stronger but so will Palatine and the Northwest conference team rates the favorite.

Friday night Bensenville's green team takes on Leyden under the lights on the Bison field. Leyden swamped the veteran Bison team a year ago and is expected to duplicate last year's result. Antioch fans will get a chance to look at a new team and a new coach as their Sequoits take on Wilmot, Wis., under the arcs Friday. Little is known of the strength of either team.

Starting spots up for grabs at Bensenville

by BUD BOOTH

The 1951 editions of Bensenville high school's varsity and frosh-soph football squads will be unveiled to the public Saturday night when the Bisons open their schedule at home against Leyden of Franklin Park. The frosh-sophs will play at 6:30 p. m. with the varsity game set for 8.

In announcing the tentative lineup for the varsity opener, Coach Tom Meneguin revealed earlier this week that several positions were still pretty well up for grabs. "Some of the boys may not know how they stand until the kickoff," he said.

PROBABLE starters are Jim Karrigan and Keith Neuman, ends; Dick Hoy and John Hendricks, tackles; Art Jolie and Dan Silianoff, guards; Gordon Koster, center; Ken Wilke, quarterback; Bob Parks and Pete Walsh, halfbacks, and Marlyn Merholtz, fullback.

Karrigan, Hoy, Wilke and Parks are the sole returning lettermen from last year's team. Hendricks is a senior transfer from St. Mel's of Chicago while the others are either subs from the 1950 varsity or advances from the frosh-soph eleven.

The Bisons open their Northwest conference schedule at Antioch, Friday, September 21. Then, in order, come games with Palatine, Grant (home), Barrington (home), Wauconda, Northbrook (home) and Ela.

LEYDEN LOST all-state guard Jan Smid, tackle Emil Pizzurulli, center Stan Hanson and backs Maynard Slicker and Chuck Qualanta. Only five lettermen, for the most part defensive performers in 1950, are back.

Johnny Rende, a defensive halfback, has been shifted to left end for offensive pass catching punch. Most promising newcomer to the varsity is Bob Bradley, 145-pound junior halfback. A speedy runner, Bradley will share the punting duties with Rende.

POWER WILL be generated by fullback Tom Schiferl, a willing 185-pound senior. Danny Plier will probably get the nod over little Ike Isenhart at quarterback.

LOCAL SCHOOLS START FOOTBALL SLATES THIS WEEK-END

by BOB PADDOCK

Arlington Heights high school gridders will open the West Suburban conference campaign Friday night when they oppose Downers Grove on the home field. A double-header is on the docket for fans with the first game, a frosh-soph encounter, slated for 6:15.

Just how the local Cardinals will stand up on the gridiron against the faster competition provided this year since entrance into the West Suburban loop is the big question. But Downers certainly rates as a "good starter" for Heights.

The DuPage county eleven had a 2-6 record last year and are aiming to break even this season. Arlington has five lettermen while Downers has six.

IN THIS CATEGORY, though, the southern squad must be conceded the edge. They have in Ed Zagol and Harvey Ogren two tackles of almost equal ability able to play at either position.

Bob Barus, quarterbacking for Downers, Ray Tennery at left end, and Joe Schumacker at center are other visiting veterans. Howard McClees, the other letterman, will probably not see action due to an injury.

Arlington has a slight edge in weight, if advance reports of the two coaches involved are accurate. Sometimes, though, it has been known that certain boys "put on weight" between lineup posting and game time.

STARTING FOR Heights will be Eakins, Ragland and the two Theis boys in the backfield; Ray Hinneberg and Bob Simmons at the ends; Rezek and Cooper at the tackles; Leckband and Grace or Sander at the guards. Either Intravartolo or Rickert will center for Coach Ormsbee's squad.

Conference schedule supposedly does not start for another two weeks but scheduling difficulties necessitated the Downers game, originally slated for October 12 at Arlington, to be moved up to this week.

Coaching the Downers aggregation is Jim Stahl, while opposing him will be Arlington's "Bus" Ormsbee.

HALFTIME FESTIVITIES Friday night include the football band under the direction of Robert Meredith. They will play several numbers and present a limited program due to just one week's practice prior to the opener.

Occupying the limelight between halves will be the "Swing Queens," group of 42 girls twirling batons in many varied formations. They will be seen at each game, with 18 of them performing a few routines this week.

Miss Patricia Schipper, girls' physical education instructor at Arlington, and Fredrick Schmoyer have charge of the class.

Unusual aspect of the halftime entertainment will be a trampoline demonstration by Gaylord Hughes, gymnastics instructor at Arlington Heights high school. Hughes was CAAU gymnastics champ in '44, and NCAA trampoline champ in 1948. He was on the University of Illinois gymnastics and swimming teams four years.

This is the first year a full time gymnastics program has been conducted at Arlington Heights. At present, until the new gym is completed, the program is limited.

TICKETS for the Downers Grove game and season ducats are on sale at both the high school and Millay's. Single game prices are 50c for students, 80c for adults, $1.10 for reserved seats. A saving of 50c can be made on the latter by purchasing a season reserved seat for $5.00.

Only coaches and players on the bench

That only coaches and players will be allowed on the bench at Arlington Heights high school athletic contests was made known this week when athletic director Wally Grace received notice of the West Suburban conference rule regarding this.

It seems that in the past some alumni sat on or next to the bench to help pep up and spread confidence among the squad. They were interested in the squad and doing everything they could to bring winning teams to the school.

THIS YEAR, however, such action is taboo. Arlington Heights must necessarily abide by the league rules prohibiting anyone from sitting on or next to the bench other than actual players and coaches.

"To avoid embarrassment," said Grace, "we're publicizing the exact qualifications of persons allowed immediately adjacent to the playing field, according to conference rules.

"On the bench are to be found substitutes, coach, assistant coach, team physician and two managers. Adjacent to the playing field are allowed one reporter, one photographer, public address man, two spotters, one down marker, and two chain boys."

Mt. Prospects' Walt Beckman letterman returning to DeKalb

Over forty freshmen are on hand for the opening week of football practice at Northern Illinois State, constituting the largest and most promising group of first-year hopefuls ever to appear at the college.

Seventeen letter-winners, returning from last season's Huskie squad, are finding keen competition from the freshman group. Many of the positions are "wide open," according to head coach "Chick" Evans, who is relying heavily on the help he can get form the frosh.

Only three experienced offensive backs are on the 1951 squad. Bob Heimerdinger, national total offense leader last fall, is back to direct Huskie activities from his quarterback spot. Jack Pheanis, Chicago Heights halfback, and Dick Schmidt, Riverside fullback, are the other two returning numeral winners.

The guard position appears a little stronger with five returning lettermen. Included is Walt Beckman, Mt. Prospect senior, appearing strongest at this position.

Don Zoellick and Bob Dejka alternated at quarterback as juniors and are both much improved. Bob Ward, shifted from end, is the talk of the Palatine practices with his hard shifty running at right half. Bob Meyer and Gerry Schwingel are lettermen who are pushing Ward for a starting berth. At left half Burton Nessett, a letterman, and Paul Schrage, a star of last year's frosh-sophs, are the chief competitors for a starting berth and both are good boys.

DAN DAY, Palatine's best candidate for all-league honors, is going great at fullback. Bob Lorden and Harlan Gephart are big juniors who are finding it hard to compete with the smaller but harder hitting veteran Day. Ken Rehusch is another promising junior who is being groomed for quarterback duties.

In the line Palatine has a weight average just slightly under 180. Dick Abrahamson 175 and Walter Grever 195 are six foot two inch ends who won letters last year. Bob Burden and John Busch are good replacements.

Jim Hillesheim 195 and Frank Hummel 185 are veteran tackles with Don Kincaid 185 and Gene Holtzee 220 the chief competition. Harry Frette 160 and George Gunder 170 are experienced guards with Wilmer Dreyer and Walter Swanson replacements. At center Welty has three good boys in lettermen Ken Mangels 175 and Tom Smith 160 and a good junior, Chuck James, who also plays guard.

Next week Palatine will open the conference season at home in a doubleheader with Wauconda starting at 6:30 at Palatine Community Park.

Cross Country at Coe

On this year's cross country team at Coe college in Iowa is Verne Busse of Arlington Hts.

Three more exhibitions on tap for the Bears

Three games in eight days — that is the job ahead for the Chicago Bears in their quest for a team unit ever since the Cleveland Brown embarrassment at Soldier Field Sunday in which the windy city boys succumbed, 32-21.

Three pass interceptions and two fumbles, all in the first half, didn't help much Sunday when the Bears appeared to have plenty of men running back and forth but not a team.

That final quarter when the Chicagoans tallied thrice against the champs showed the Bears still can go somewhere if provided the zest to do it.

Three more exhibition games before the season's opener at Green Bay September 30 will provide coach George Halas with more information on what twelve men, rookies or veterans, to send back home. Those games are:

Saturday, September 15, Philadelphia Eagles at Philadelphia, 8:00.

Wednesday, September 19, Washington Redskins at Kansas City, 8:00.

Sunday, September 23, Pittsburgh Steelers at Pittsburgh, 2:00.

60 entries for 32 mile bike race September 23

Over 60 entries have been received for the annual Mt. Prospect bike race slated for Sunday, September 23, with two laps around a 16 mile course planned.

The cyclists will start on Main street in Mt. Prospect, west to Northwest highway, west to Hick's road in Palatine, north to Dundee road, east to Rand road, southeast to route 83, thence south to Main street in Mt. Prospect. The course will be repeated to make the required 32 miles.

Northwest Cycle and Supply company, in conjunction with the Edison Park Wheelmen, is sponsoring the race. It will be sanctioned by the amateur bicycle league of America. Starting time is 2 p. m.

TICKET PRICE ERROR

It was erroneously stated in last week's sport page that single game admissions to Arlington Heights home football games were 50c and 30c.

Actually, prices are 80c for adults and 50c for students. Reserved seats are $1.10 with season reserved seats selling at Millay's and high school office for $5.00 for the five home contests.

Prospects bright at Grant; Palatine and Bensenville in non-league openers

by G. A. McELROY

Last year Coach Dan Werhan had one of the finest football teams ever to represent Grant High in Fox Lake. Saturday night when Grant is host to Grayslake in a non-conference opener there will be 11 lettermen seeing action and two are all-conference performers. Grant lost only one game last year and that to Barrington's best team by a 13-7 score.

Heading the Grant team which is expected to push Barrington just as hard again this year are Roger Smith, all-conference center, and Jim Kramer, all league halfback. Then add to those stars Stu Koutney and Don Wehrstein who alternated at quarterback last year and you have the nucleus of a fast and powerful team.

Grant will have the most backfield speed of any team in the league. Added to the three stars previously mentioned are fullback Jim Lumber, 185 pound fullback, and Tom Owen, small 140 pound scat back who can really step.

THAT ALL important position of tackle will be well handled by three giant lettermen in George Vermillion weighing 210, Jim Jensen 190, and Bill Swanson 185. Werhan will have two capable guards who are small but fast in Roy Rosing 155 and Gordon Cole 150. One of the best of the sophomore crop is a 210 pound lad named White who will see plenty of varsity action.

Coach Werhan has a number of promising candidates who moved to Fox Lake this year but he comments that they are big but green. Grant has 85 boys out for football and the school enrollment has mushroomed to 540, way out in front of the other Northwest conference schools.

THE NORTHWEST conference season opens September 21 and this week end most of the schools will be engaging in non-league competition. Heading the schedule will be the game at Barrington Saturday afternoon at 2:00 where Libertyville will try to break the long Broncho winning streak of 24 straight games. The Wildcats are touted as a strong veteran club capable of whipping Barrington.

Coach Tom Fredrick is plenty worried about this opener for he has been having trouble developing a capable team field general at quarterback. Barrington is big and has excellent replacements at every position except the quarterback spot, and are rated by most experts as a two touchdown choice.

Wauconda with a new coach will play against Maryville at Des Plaines Saturday afternoon. Last year Maryville beat the Bulldogs in a free scoring game but Wauconda will have a veteran team capable of taking its share this year.

FRIDAY afternoon Palatine will play at Warren High in Gurnee at 3:30. Warren was beaten by two touchdowns by the Pirates last season when they had a young green team. Warren will be stronger but so will Palatine and the Northwest conference team rates the favorite.

Friday night Bensenville's green team takes on Leyden under the lights on the Bison field. Leyden swamped the veteran Bison team a year ago and is expected to duplicate last year's result. Antioch fans will get a chance to look at a new team and a new coach as their Sequoits take on Wilmot, Wis., under the arcs Friday. Little is known of the strength of either team.

Starting spots up for grabs at Bensenville

by BUD BOOTH

The 1951 editions of Bensenville high school's varsity and frosh-soph football squads will be unveiled to the public Saturday night when the Bisons open their schedule at home against Leyden of Franklin Park. The frosh-sophs will play at 6:30 p. m. with the varsity game set for 8.

In announcing the tentative lineup for the varsity opener, Coach Tom Meneguin revealed earlier this week that several positions were still pretty well up for grabs. "Some of the boys may not know how they stand until the kickoff," he said.

PROBABLE starters are: Jim Karrigan and Keith Neuman, ends; Dick Hoy and John Hendricks, tackles; Art Jolie and Dan Silianoff, guards; Gordon Koster, center; Ken Wilke, quarterback; Bob Parks and Pete Walsh, halfbacks, and Merlyn Merholtz, fullback.

Karrigan, Hoy, Wilke and Parks are the sole returning lettermen from last year's team. Hendricks is a senior transfer from St. Mel's of Chicago while the others are either subs from the 1950 varsity or advances from the frosh-soph eleven.

The Bisons open their Northwest conference schedule at Antioch, Friday, September 21. Then, in order, come games with Palatine, Grant (home), Barrington (home), Wauconda, Northbrook (home) and Ela.

LEYDEN LOST all-state guard Jan Smid, tackle Emil Pizzurulli, center Stan Hanson and backs Maynard Slicker and Chuck Qualanta. Only five lettermen, for the most part defensive performers in 1950, are back.

Johnny Rende, a defensive halfback, has been shifted to left end for offensive pass catching punch. Most promising newcomer to the varsity is Bob Bradley, 145-pound junior halfback. A speedy runner, Bradley will share the punting duties with Rende.

POWER WILL be generated by fullback Tom Schiferl, a willing 185-pound senior. Danny Plier will probably get the nod over little Ike Isenhart at quarterback.

HOOK'S NURSERY, the newly crowned champions of Mt. Prospect have won every major event they have participated in this year. It will be remembered they also were victors in the Paddock Publications tournament held Sunday, August 19, with the leaders of seven different leagues competing.

Hook's Nursery will try to make a clean sweep of things as they take on the champions of Arlington Heights, Schiller Carpet, in the annual inter-city play-offs this coming Sunday, Sept. 16, at 1:00 p. m. at the Mt. Prospect Country club. Arlington Heights has been the victors over Mt. Prospect for three years in a row, so Sunday's match should prove to be an exciting one.

Presentation of trophies and blind bogey prizes will be made to members of the Mt. Prospect Twilight golf league Tuesday, Sept. 25, at their annual banquet to be held at the Country club. Dinner will be served at 7:30 p. m. with musical entertainment to be provided.

SCHILLER CARPET, by the way, dropped out of first place in the crucial week as far as the recent Paddock tournament was concerned. A three week spurt by Lingren's Men's Wear in the Arlington Heights league wrested first place away, temporarily, from Schiller.

Thus, though Hook's and Schillers are both champs of their respective leagues, the two squads did not meet in the Paddock tourney.

PAA gives their football equipment to Palatine High

Palatine high football coaches were pleasantly surprised recently when Earl Schinkowsky, representing the Palatine Athletic Association (a community young men's club), presented the school with the football equipment used the past few years by the club. The PAA has disbanded and had some good equipment on hand. They owed the high school a sizeable bill for building rental for basketball which they were unable to pay due to very limited receipts during their last season of playing.

Schinkowsky and other leaders of the club are to be commended for wanting to close the accounts of the club and disband with all obligations fulfilled. While the school has enough equipment for this season the 16 sets of shoulder, hip, kidney, and thigh pads will be a big help in the future and the set of blue jerseys will be used by the frosh-sophs for their games at Community Park this fall. The high school and the coaching staff wishes to thus publicly thank the PAA for their generous donation in helping to encourage football at PTHS.

Coach Eliot needs reserve strength at UI

The search for reserve strength and key replacements went into high gear last week as Coach Ray Eliot pushed a squad of 98—63 returnees and 35 freshmen—through double drills.

With varsity candidates reporting in top physical condition, Eliot will waste little time with fundamental drills as he begins to seek offensive and defensive platoons for the opening battle with U.C.L.A. in Memorial Stadium Sept. 29.

Twenty-two lettermen, 14 reserves, and 27 sophomores are top candidates for the gaping holes in both offensive and defensive lineups which June graduations left in the Illinois squad. A few yearlings may also show up on the varsity, but Eliot doesn't expect too much aid from first-year men.

GUARDS and tackles will claim top attention with Capt Chuck Studley, Pontiac, and Don Gnidovic, LaSalle, holding first rank offensively and two sophomores, John Bauer, Benton, and Bob Lenzini, Waukegan, rated on defense. Chuck Ulrich, Chicago (Fenger), and Bernie Elsner, Chicago (St. Bede), are only returning lettermen at tackle, a spot which may give the Illini trouble because of lack of depth.

Eliot is also looking at all available candidates for the fullback spot, left vacant by graduation of Rocky Raklovits, Big Ten rushing leader in 1950.

Still on the squad as of last week were Bruce Struckman, Elgin end; Marvin Berschet, Arlington Heights tackle; Emil Pizzirulli, Leyden guard; Jan Smid, Leyden guard; Paul Luhrsen, York center; Herb Borman, Downers Grove center; letterman Joe Cole, Maine center; Russell O'Grady, Niles fullback; Donald Westphal, Elgin quarterback.

PERFECT NO-HITTER

Warren "Shorty" Boyes, pitching for the Woodstock softball team in the annual 24-team Marengo tournament, turned in a perfect no-hit, no-run game last week, blanking Plato Center, 2-0.

Boyes fanned 15 out of 21 batters and not one opponent was walked or reached base. He is the regular twirler for the Libertyville Comets.

Palatine Theater wins two at Libertyville; to meet Oak Park Sunday

Palatine Theater softball aggregation continued their winning ways Saturday and Monday nights at Libertyville and will play Oak Park this Friday night in the semi-finals. Championship game is carded for Sunday night.

It was Don Heiden again for the Theater boys Saturday night as he allowed just one hit while his mates were running up a 4-0 score against Zion.

Palatine scored all four runs in the sixth inning on singles by Bucky Harris and Mert Taylor, plus two errors. The former kept right on running, circling the bases while Zion was juggling the ball.

JIMMY GEISLER of Mt. Prospect pitched for Don Foster's boys Monday night and continued the locals' record of having no earned runs tallied against Palatine in two tournaments when the show boys beat Fells of Winnetka, 5-1.

Palatine tallied once in the third on a hit by Chervanak and an error. They garnered two in the fifth on hits by Kinsch, Rosselein and Geisler.

In the sixth the locals scored two more on a walk, a single by Douglas and two errors. Fells scored their only run on an overthrow to third.

Arlington Heights high school frosh slate

Final complete schedule of the Arlington Heights high school freshman football squad has been released by athletic director Wally Grace. It includes:

Monday, September 24, Palatine, here.

Monday, October 1, York, here.

Monday, October 8, Maine, there.

Wednesday, October 17, Niles, here.

Monday, October 22, Palatine, here.

Tuesday, October 30, Crystal Lake, there.

Paul Scull, All-American fullback in 1928, scored four touchdowns and kicked seven extra points for Pennsylvania in the '28 encounter with Cornell. Scull made 23 of 24 extra point kicks that season . . . and with a small foot. His shoe size is 8½.

Barrington Bears raise $565 for player

Barrington Bears, one of the top softball teams in this area, raised $565 for the "Emmie" Altenberg fund when they beat the Barrington Blue-Jays, 12-0, in a benefit game last week in Barrington.

Altenberg, who suffered a badly broken leg while playing first base for the Elgin American Legion baseball team recently, is still in Sherman hospital and it is reported he will have to remain three to four more weeks.

The $565 raised by the Barrington benefit brings the total raised for the injured ballplayer's hospital bills to $865.

Game added for F-S team

One additional game has been added for Arlington's frosh-soph eleven with Palatine October 13. The game will be the preliminary to Palatine's homecoming tilt against Ela. The Heights frosh-sophs now have a full nine game schedule.

Record cow

With 770.3 pounds of butterfat and 21810 of milk to her credit, West-Villa Madcap Dots, registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Mrs. Dorothy Hammerstein, Roselle, has completed a 365-day production test in official Herd Improvement Registry.

She was milked 2 times daily, and was 6 years 7 months old when she began her testing period.

Fire Country

Iceland has an immense tract of devastated wilderness which in native lore is known as the "fire focus of the north". Here burning sulphur beds, geysers and seething cauldrons of mud testify to dying fires of the earth close beneath.

Need more nurses for polio duty here

An urgent call for nurses to care for polio patients was issued by the Cook county chapter of the national foundation for infantile paralysis.

Most pressing demands are for seven registered nurses at municipal contagious disease hospital and two at Evanston hospital. Municipal contagious disease hospital has cared for more than 160 polio patients since June. There now are 31 patients at this hospital with seven in respirators. Evanston hospital has hospitalized 90 polio patients this summer, and now has 40 polio patients including five respirators. Those in respirators require around-the-clock nursing care.

Nurses are asked to contact the American Red Cross, official nurses' recruitment agency for the National Foundation, by telephoning Wabash 2-7850.

War babies increase demand for teachers

Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of public instruction of Illinois, announced today that due to the increase in the births in Illinois during the years of 1945 and 1946, the state will need an additional three thousand teachers to meet the demand for the first and second grades alone in '51 and '52. These two years represent the beginning of an increase in the elementary grades that will not reach its peak until 1959 and the peak enrollment for elementary and high school will not be reached until 1962-1963.

Mr. Nickell expressed the opinion that there are real opportunities ahead for young people in the teaching field. Larger enrollments, better salaries and an excellent retirement system affords an outstanding opportunity for young men and young women entering the teaching profession.

Twenty-two lettermen, 14 reserves, and 27 sophomores are top candidates for the gaping holes in both offensive and defensive lineups which June graduations left in the Illinois squad. A few yearlings may also show up on the varsity, but Eliot doesn't expect too much aid from first-year men.

GUARDS and tackles will claim top attention with Capt Chuck Studley, Pontiac, and Don Gnidovic, LaSalle, holding first rank offensively and two sophomores, John Bauer, Benton, and Bob Lenzini, Waukegan, rated on defense. Chuck Ulrich, Chicago (Fenger), and Bernie Elsner, Chicago (St. Bede), are only returning lettermen at tackle, a spot which may give the Illini trouble because of lack of depth.

Eliot is also looking at all available candidates for the fullback spot, left vacant by graduation of Rocky Raklovits, Big Ten rushing leader in 1950.

Still on the squad as of last week were Bruce Struckman, Elgin end; Marvin Berschet, Arlington Heights tackle; Emil Pizzirulli, Leyden guard; Jan Smid, Leyden guard; Paul Luhrsen, York center; Herb Borman, Downers Grove center; letterman Joe Cole, Maine center; Russell O'Grady, Niles fullback; Donald Westphal, Elgin quarterback.

PERFECT NO-HITTER

Warren "Shorty" Boyes, pitching for the Woodstock softball team in the annual 24-team Marengo tournament, turned in a perfect no-hit, no-run game last week, blanking Plato Center, 2-0.

Boyes fanned 15 out of 21 batters and not one opponent was walked or reached base. He is the regular twirler for the Libertyville Comets.

Palatine Theater softball aggregation continued their winning ways Saturday and Monday nights at Libertyville and will play Oak Park this Friday night in the semi-finals. Championship game is carded for Sunday night.

It was Don Heiden again for the Theater boys Saturday night as he allowed just one hit while his mates were running up a 4-0 score against Zion.

Palatine scored all four runs in the sixth inning on singles by Bucky Harris and Mert Taylor, plus two errors. The former kept right on running, circling the bases while Zion was juggling the ball.

Barrington Bears raise $565 for player

Barrington Bears, one of the top softball teams in this area, raised $565 for the "Emmie" Altenberg fund when they beat the Barrington Blue-Jays, 12-0, in a benefit game last week in Barrington.

Altenberg, who suffered a badly broken leg while playing first base for the Elgin American Legion baseball team recently, is still in Sherman hospital and it is reported he will have to remain three to four more weeks.

The $565 raised by the Barrington benefit brings the total raised for the injured ballplayer's hospital bills to $865.

Game added for F-S team

One additional game has been added for Arlington's frosh-soph eleven with Palatine October 13. The game will be the preliminary to Palatine's homecoming tilt against Ela. The Heights frosh-sophs now have a full nine game schedule.

She was milked 2 times daily, and was 6 years 7 months old when she began her testing period.

Fire Country

Iceland has an immense tract of devastated wilderness which in native lore is known as the "fire focus of the north". Here burning sulphur beds, geysers and seething cauldrons of mud testify to dying fires of the earth close beneath.

Need more nurses for polio duty here

An urgent call for nurses to care for polio patients was issued by the Cook county chapter of the national foundation for infantile paralysis.

Most pressing demands are for seven registered nurses at municipal contagious disease hospital and two at Evanston hospital. Municipal contagious disease hospital has cared for more than 160 polio patients since June. There now are 31 patients at this hospital with seven in respirators. Evanston hospital has hospitalized 90 polio patients this summer, and now has 40 polio patients including five respirators. Those in respirators require around-the-clock nursing care.

Nurses are asked to contact the American Red Cross, official nurses' recruitment agency for the National Foundation, by telephoning Wabash 2-7850.

War babies increase demand for teachers

Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of public instruction of Illinois, announced today that due to the increase in the births in Illinois during the years of 1945 and 1946, the state will need an additional three thousand teachers to meet the demand for the first and second grades alone in '51 and '52. These two years represent the beginning of an increase in the elementary grades that will not reach its peak until 1959 and the peak enrollment for elementary and high school will not be reached until 1962-1963.

Mr. Nickell expressed the opinion that there are real opportunities ahead for young people in the teaching field. Larger enrollments, better salaries and an excellent retirement system affords an outstanding opportunity for young men and young women entering the teaching profession.

Offer adult class in interior decorating at evening school

An adult class in Interior Decorating will be resumed again this fall in the Arlington Heights township high school, and will be taught by Mrs. Lucille Mook, former resident of Arlington Heights and manager of the Hilltop Studios.

Mrs. Mook has conducted classes in Washington, D. C., and in the South which have been highly successful. She will bring to the class the latest in material designs and patterns of furniture, furnishings, and arrangements. These classes have been most popular when offered and usually fill by advance mail registration.

This year in order to provide more materials and furnishings for the class, Mrs. Mook will teach in her studio instead of at the high school on Monday nights for a series of ten class lessons of two hours each. The enrollment will be limited strictly to 25 people which means that the first 25 reservations received will secure this course for the first semester.

Registrations and reservations may be made by mail to the Adult Education Office at the Arlington Heights township high school beginning Monday, September 24.

The printed catalog of the courses will be available which will supply information in regard to tuition fees and registration expense. Sufficient time will be allowed in the class lessons to consider individual problems of those who are taking the course.

Lions hear talk on Bell Telephone system

Chief operator Miss Mary O'Malley of the Arlington Hts. Illinois Bell Telephone office was guest speaker at the Lions club meeting last week, Tuesday. Her appearance was arranged for by William Lathen, district manager.

Miss O'Malley explained the system operation in connection with local calls, information calls, long distance and emergency calls to the fire and police departments.

She informed the Lions that prior to 1904 all switchboard operators were men. Other interesting facts were that the most number of calls each day are made between the hours of 9 a. m. and 11 a. m., 4 p. m. and 5 p. m., and 7 p. m. to 8 p. m. These times vary with the weather, holidays and emergency conditions.

Miss O'Malley said that when the new dial system was put into use most of the complaints about telephone service in this area would be eliminated.

Given patent on window shade device

Charles S. Butkus of Palatine has been granted a patent on a window shade mounting device that will enable home owners to lower window shades to insure privacy, yet not have to shut off ventilation from the room.

The pull chain affair lowers the shade roll to any level desired on the top half of the window, leaving space for ventilation, yet covering the lower half of the window for privacy.

While living in Chicago 25 years ago, and suffering from lack of ventilation with the shades necessarily drawn, Mr. Butkus thought something ought to be done about it. He finally invented the mechanism, which has been on file with the patent office since May 22, 1947. Government procedure finally awarded the patent last month.

Baptist church nearing completion

The men of Prospect Heights Baptist church have adopted the policy that "if you want a job done, do it yourself," the pastor, Floyd E. Gephart, stated today.

Anxious to occupy their new church building now under construction at Wheeling and MacDonald rds., work gangs have been spearheaded by Ray Truelson and E. C. Green. In a short time, wiring for the building has been "roughed in" and the walls prepared for plastering. A part of the landscaping has also been done. Plans are being made to occupy the new church early in November.

Raymond R. Chmelik attends Chicago meeting

Mr. Chmelik, (right) owner of the Culligan Soft Water Service, 3 West Central rd., Mt. Prospect, is shown with Emmett J. Culligan, pioneer of the soft water service industry, at the recent meeting in Chicago of the National Association of Soft Water Service dealers.

Mr. Chmelik reports that 85 per cent of the tap water in the United States is hard. Hard water and soap form a curd which can be dangerous, he warns.

A film of hard water curd on dishes, glassware, and utensils can keep bacteria "alive", Mr. Chmelik was told by experts at the meeting. The bacteria may spread communicable diseases.

Research shows that the hard water curd, which is soluble in fatty secretions of the skin, can enter the pores carrying infectious bacteria which can grow to produce pimples and boils.

Fabrics on which soap curd has formed when the fabrics were washed in hard water also represent a potential health danger if they rub against the skin, it was disclosed.

In the past few years the Culligan Soft Water Service, founded in 1936 by E. J. Culligan, has become national in scale, with more than 5,000 employees operating 1,100 plants providing the benefits of completely soft water to two and a half million people.

Benefit show to aid hospitalized veterans

"Kon-Tiki," one of the finest sea tales of the day, will be given as a benefit for the Christmas fund for hospitalized veterans of the American armed forces at the Catlow thatre, Barrington, October 2-4.

The benefit is sponsored by the Barrington 4-H club girls. Tickets are now on sale, 60 cents for adults and 18 cents for children.

Barrington 4-H girls are the ones who thought up the idea of making baskets out of greeting cards. Following their plea for cards last winter, the girls received more than 200,000 cards. They filled 300 greeting card baskets themselves, and have sent patterns for 3,000 more all over the country, including 156 veteran's hospitals. The making of the baskets from the greeting cards is part of the hospital's rehabilitation program.

Any other group who would like the pattern for these baskets may obtain same by writing Mrs. Milton E. Parker, 4-H club leader. Her address is RFD No. 3, Box 240, Barrington. A stamp, self-addressed envelope must be sent along with the request.

Business activity continues to set new records in Chicago area

Business activity in the Chicago area continued to set new records in July, with several indices showing a reversal of the usual downward trend in that month. Bank loans reached a new all-time high during the month, and new July records were set in steel production, electric power output, postal receipts, bank clearings, bank debits to individual accounts and in air passenger arrivals and departures.

Reversals of seasonal patterns were noted in electric power production, steel production and in banking activity. At the same time, the cost of living index for the Chicago area reached a new all-time record high.

Exceptions to the general upward pattern were noted in the CTA Surface and Rapid Transit divisions where passenger traffic continued to fall off; in Chicago department store sales, which fell below last year's July record; and real estate and building activity.

BANK LOANS (average outstanding) amounted to $2,376,000,000, a climb of only $2,000,000 over the previous month but enough to establish a new all-time record. In July 1950, bank loans amounted to only $1,715,000,000. Bank clearings climbed to $3,620,713,359 from the previous month's $3,593,321,668, reversing a seasonal trend. Bank debits to individual accounts amounted to $9,479,391,000, which was $406,933,000 less than the previous month's record but still a new high for July.

Steel production in July was 1,632,000 net tons, remaining close to the all-time high of 1,672,000 net tons produced in May of this year.

Electric power production, another index in which the seasonal pattern was reversed, reached 1,089,107,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 1,104,190,000 kilowatt hours produced in the previous month.

AIR DEPARTURES and arrivals totalled 406,803, a slight drop from the all-time record of 413,010 set in the previous month and a new record for July.

The Rapid Transit division recorded 11,513,194 passengers in July, compared with 12,220,850 in the previous month and 11,057,526 in July 1950. The Surface division carried 46,051,991 passengers in July, compared with 49,733,764 in the previous month and 49,464,474 in July 1950.

Announce winners in national VFW essay contest

Winners of the $2,000 national high school essay contest sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars are being announced this week.

The $1,000 first prize went to Catherine Diederichs of Missoula, Mont. Second place went to Patricia N. Anderson, Yakima, Washington; third, Patricia Anne Hale, Staunton, Va.; and fourth, John Sakellakis, Cleveland, O.

The Arlington Heights Auxiliary had 50 entrants in the local contest and Charles Anderson's essay on "Freedom's Open Door," was selected as the best and sent to the state contest. Though his essay didn't win in the state the local auxiliary hopes that as many, if not more, students will take part in the next essay contest, the theme of which is "America is Everybody's Business."

The deadline for this contest is April 1, 1952. Rules and regulations will be available in the near future at the high school office or at the office of Paddock Publications.

Garden club of Barrington features 'A Day in the Country'

The Garden club of Barrington will welcome all who wish to come to, "A Day in the Country, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence G. Hallberg from 10:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., September 15.

"Hilltop," the Hallberg home and the setting for the project, is located exactly 1½ miles southwest of the corner of Main and Hough sts. on Routes 59 and 63. It is in the Barrington Countryside and has a garden leading to the shore of the lake. There will be table and flower arrangements in the house itself.

Marshall Field & Co. will provide a fashion show entitled "Fashions of the Hour on the Hour," at 11, 12. 2, 3, and 4. p.m. Models will walk down a runway extending almost the full length of the rolling lawn from the boathouse to the driveway. They will show selections ranging from inexpensive everyday models to special occasion dresses taken from the collections of leading fashion designers both in this country and in France, England and Italy. There will be some costumes for college and Junior Miss wardrobes.

A country store will offer a variety of things for sale, ranging from home-made candies, cake and cookies to the entire fall sale of the Vocational Society for Shut-Ins. This will include their handmade children's things and Christmas toys.

In case of rain, there is an attractive alternative at the new Countryside school on County Line rd. Completed less than a year ago, it will lend itself to a project of this kind.

In either case, guests are urged to bring a lunch basket or a sandwich. They will be able to buy ice cream, doughnuts and coffee.

Tickets will be sold at the entrance at $1.50 each.

Cpl. Delwin Roberts flies own plane 1,000 miles

Cpl. Delwin Roberts spent the week end in Mt. Prospect visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Lew Roberts after flying his own plane home from Langley Field air force base in Virginia.

Cpl. Roberts will store his "Luscombe" plane in the Arlington airport for the coming winter.

He flew over 1000 miles alone over mountainous terrain without a two way radio.

Arriving in Mt. Prospect at dusk Sunday evening, Cpl. Roberts circled his parents' home to notify them of his arrival. He is serving with the United States air corps at Langley Field and has returned there to resume his duties.

FASHION NOOK
1 N. Brockway Palatine 512

September 6, 1951

Dear Customer:

In these days of increased taxes and higher prices on everything you must buy; days when the dollars just don't go far enough and you sometimes just don't have enough of them, Julia and Jean, your friends at the FASHION NOOK feel that there must be some way in which we can make the ladies' clothing dollar go farther and at the same time help ourselves thru an increased turnover in dresses.

We have therefore decided that effective immediately, we will radically change our pricing policy on dresses in a way which seems to be opposite to the general trend. This is not to be in the form of so called "profit sharing" coupons, free gifts, premiums, or specials. Rather, we are reducing the price of all of our dresses approximately TEN PERCENT!

This is not a temporary sale to end in a few days, but will continue indefinitely. From this day on, you will find the same high style, high quality dresses at the FASHION NOOK but at new lower prices.

We at the FASHION NOOK sincerely believe that this will be a definite help to you and at the same time will benefit us with increased business.

Thanking you,

Julia and Jean

Offer adult class in interior decorating at evening school

An adult class in Interior Decorating will be resumed again this fall in the Arlington Heights township high school, and will be taught by Mrs. Lucille Mook, former resident of Arlington Heights and manager of the Hilltop Studios.

Mrs. Mook has conducted classes in Washington, D. C., and in the South which have been highly successful. She will bring to the class the latest in material designs and patterns of furniture, furnishings, and arrangements. These classes have been most popular when offered and usually fill by advance mail registration.

This year in order to provide more materials and furnishings for the class, Mrs. Mook will teach in her studio instead of at the high school on Monday nights for a series of ten class lessons of two hours each. The enrollment will be limited strictly to 25 people which means that the first 25 reservations received will secure this course for the first semester.

Registrations and reservations may be made by mail to the Adult Education Office at t he Arlington Heights township high school beginning Monday, September 24.

The printed catalog of the courses will be available which will supply information in regard to tuition fees and registration expense. Sufficient time will be allowed in the class lessons to consider individual problems of those who are taking the course.

Lions hear talk on Bell Telephone system

Chief operator Miss Mary O'Malley of the Arlington Hts. Illinois Bell Telephone office was guest speaker at the Lions club meeting last week, Tuesday. Her appearance was arranged for by William Lathen, district manager.

Miss O'Malley explained the system operation in connection with local calls, information calls, long distance and emergency calls to the fire and police departments.

She informed the Lions that prior to 1904 all switchboard operators were men. Other interesting facts were that the most number of calls each day are made between the hours of 9 a. m. and 11 a. m., 4 p. m. and 5 p. m., and 7 p. m. to 8 p. m. These times vary with the weather, holidays and emergency conditions.

Miss O'Malley said that when the new dial system was put into use most of the complaints about telephone service in this area would be eliminated.

Given patent on window shade device

Charles S. Butkus of Palatine has been granted a patent on a window shade mounting device that will enable home owners to lower window shades to insure privacy, yet not have to shut off ventilation from the room.

The pull chain affair lowers the shade roll to any level desired on the top half of the window, leaving space for ventilation, yet covering the lower half of the window for privacy.

While living in Chicago 25 years ago, and suffering from lack of ventilation with the shades necessarily drawn, Mr. Butkus thought something ought to be done about it. He finally invented the mechanism, which has been on file with the patent office since May 22, 1947. Government procedure finally awarded the patent last month.

Baptist church nearing completion

The men of Prospect Heights Baptist church have adopted the policy that "if you want a job done, do it yourself," the pastor, Floyd E. Gephart, stated today.

Anxious to occupy their new church building now under construction at Wheeling and MacDonald rds., work gangs have been spearheaded by Ray Truelson and E. C. Green. In a short time, wiring for the building has been "roughed in" and the walls prepared for plastering. A part of the landscaping has also been done. Plans are being made to occupy the new church early in November.

Raymond R. Chmelik attends Chicago meeting

Mr. Chmelik, (right) owner of the Culligan Soft Water Service, 3 West Central rd., Mt. Prospect, is shown with Emmett J. Culligan, pioneer of the soft water service industry, at the recent meeting in Chicago of the National Association of Soft Water Service dealers.

Mr. Chmelik reports that 85 per cent of the tap water in the United States is hard. Hard water and soap form a curd which can be dangerous, he warns.

A film of hard water curd on dishes, glassware, and utensils can keep bacteria "alive", Mr. Chmelik was told by experts at the meeting. The bacteria may spread communicable diseases.

Research shows that the hard water curd, which is soluble in fatty secretions of the skin, can enter the pores carrying infectious bacteria which can grow to produce pimples and boils.

Fabrics on which soap curd has formed when the fabrics were washed in hard water also represent a potential health danger if they rub against the skin, it was disclosed.

In the past few years the Culligan Soft Water Service, founded in 1936 by E. J. Culligan, has become national in scale, with more than 5,000 employees operating 1,100 plants providing the benefits of completely soft water to two and a half million people.

Benefit show to aid hospitalized veterans

"Kon-Tiki," one of the finest sea tales of the day, will be given as a benefit for the Christmas fund for hospitalized veterans of the American armed forces at the Catlow thatre, Barrington, October 2-4.

The benefit is sponsored by the Barrington 4-H club girls. Tickets are now on sale, 60 cents for adults and 18 cents for children.

Barrington 4-H girls are the ones who thought up the idea of making baskets out of greeting cards. Following their plea for cards last winter, the girls received more than 200,000 cards. They filled 300 greeting card baskets themselves, and have sent patterns for 3,000 more all over the country, including 156 veteran's hospitals. The making of the baskets from the greeting cards is part of the hospital's rehabilitation program.

Any other group who would like the pattern for these baskets may obtain same by writing Mrs. Milton E. Parker, 4-H club leader. Her address is RFD No. 3, Box 240, Barrington. A stamp, self-addressed envelope must be sent along with the request.

Business activity continues to set new records in Chicago area

Business activity in the Chicago area continued to set new records in July, with several indices showing a reversal of the usual downward trend in that month. Bank loans reached a new all-time high during the month, and new July records were set in steel production, electric power output, postal receipts, bank clearings, bank debits to individual accounts and in air passenger arrivals and departures.

Reversals of seasonal patterns were noted in electric power production, steel production and in banking activity. At the same time, the cost of living index for the Chicago area reached a new all-time record high.

Exceptions to the general upward pattern were noted in the CTA Surface and Rapid Transit divisions where passenger traffic continued to fall off; in Chicago department store sales, which fell below last year's July record; and real estate and building activity.

BANK LOANS (average outstanding) amounted to $2,376,000,000, a climb of only $2,000,000 over the previous month but enough to establish a new all-time record. In July 1950, bank loans amounted to only $1,715,000,000. Bank clearings climbed to $3,620,713,359 from the previous month's $3,593,321,668, reversing a seasonal trend. Bank debits to individual accounts amounted to $9,479,391,000, which was $406,933,000 less than the previous month's record but still a new high for July.

Steel production in July was 1,632,000 net tons, remaining close to the all-time high of 1,672,000 net tons produced in May of this year.

Electric power production, another index in which the seasonal pattern was reversed, reached 1,089,107,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 1,104,190,000 kilowatt hours produced in the previous month.

AIR DEPARTURES and arrivals totalled 406,803, a slight drop from the all-time record of 413,010 set in the previous month and a new record for July.

The Rapid Transit division recorded 11,513,194 passengers in July, compared with 12,220,850 in the previous month and 11,057,526 in July 1950. The Surface division carried 46,051,991 passengers in July, compared with 49,733,764 in the previous month and 49,464,474 in July 1950.

Announce winners in national VFW essay contest

Winners of the $2,000 national high school essay contest sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars are being announced this week.

The $1,000 first prize went to Catherine Diederichs of Missoula, Mont. Second place went to Patricia N. Anderson, Yakima, Washington; third, Patricia Anne Hale, Staunton, Va.; and fourth, John Sakellakis, Cleveland, O.

The Arlington Heights Auxiliary had 50 entrants in the local contest and Charles Anderson's essay on "Freedom's Open Door," was selected as the best and sent to the state contest. Though his essay didn't win in the state the local auxiliary hopes that as many, if not more, students will take part in the next essay contest, the theme of which is "America is Everybody's Business."

The deadline for this contest is April 1, 1952. Rules and regulations will be available in the near future at the high school office or at the office of Paddock Publications.

Garden club of Barrington features 'A Day in the Country'

The Garden club of Barrington will welcome all who wish to come to, "A Day in the Country, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence G. Hallberg from 10:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., September 15.

"Hilltop," the Hallberg home and the setting for the project, is located exactly 1½ miles southwest of the corner of Main and Hough sts. on Routes 59 and 63. It is in the Barrington Countryside and has a garden leading to the shore of the lake. There will be table and flower arrangements in the house itself.

Marshall Field & Co. will provide a fashion show entitled "Fashions of the Hour on the Hour," at 11, 12. 2, 3, and 4. p.m. Models will walk down a runway extending almost the full length of the rolling lawn from the boathouse to the driveway. They will show selections ranging from inexpensive everyday models to special occasion dresses taken from the collections of leading fashion designers both in this country and in France, England and Italy. There will be some costumes for college and Junior Miss wardrobes.

A country store will offer a variety of things for sale, ranging from home-made candies, cake and cookies to the entire fall sale of the Vocational Society for Shut-Ins. This will include their handmade children's things and Christmas toys.

In case of rain, there is an attractive alternative at the new Countryside school on County Line rd. Completed less than a year ago, it will lend itself to a project of this kind.

In either case, guests are urged to bring a lunch basket or a sandwich. They will be able to buy ice cream, doughnuts and coffee.

Tickets will be sold at the entrance at $1.50 each.

FASHION NOOK
1 N. Brockway Palatine 512

September 6, 1951

Dear Customer:

In these days of increased taxes and higher prices on everything you must buy; days when the dollars just don't go far enough and you sometimes just don't have enough of them, Julia and Jean, your friends at the FASHION NOOK feel that there must be some way in which we can make the ladies' clothing dollar go farther and at the same time help ourselves thru an increased turnover in dresses.

We have therefore decided that effective immediately, we will radically change our pricing policy on dresses in a way which seems to be opposite to the general trend. This is not to be in the form of so called "profit sharing" coupons, free gifts, premiums, or specials. Rather, we are reducing the price of all of our dresses approximately TEN PERCENT!

This is not a temporary sale to end in a few days, but will continue indefinitely. From this day on, you will find the same high style, high quality dresses at the FASHION NOOK but at new lower prices.

We at the FASHION NOOK sincerely believe that this will be a definite help to you and at the same time will benefit us with increased business.

Thanking you,

Julia and Jean

Ceramics to again be taught at adult evening school

A class in Ceramics will be offered in the Arlington Heights Adult Evening school series, and will be taught by Miss Kay Campbell at the South school Wednesday evenings for ten weeks beginning the first week in October.

The class will offer work in clay by hand and with small tools. No previous experience is necessary. Ample opportunity will be given for experimenting in glazes from dull mat to brilliant gloss.

The class will be taught in the art room of the Junior high school, and a kiln will be available for the firing of favorite pieces. This will be the first Ceramics class offered in the last two years, and rather heavy enrollment is expected.

TAX FACTS

By George Mahin, Executive Secretary, Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

DuPage county officials have set out to prove that delinquent personal property taxes can be collected, and that there are plenty of teeth in the present laws to force payment.

The decision to launch an all-out campaign for collection of delinquent personal property taxes was reached by the DuPage county board of supervisors when personal property tax collections dropped from 83% in 1948 to 73% in 1949. The drop in collections in DuPage county on the western border of Cook, is attributed by DuPage officials to propaganda issued by a group of recalcitrant taxpayer immigrants from Cook county who contend that personal property taxes can't be collected, so why pay them.

DuPage county collector Jack DeRosa, in accordance with instructions from the delinquent tax committee of the county board, is sending out letters in batches of 200 to delinquent personal property taxpayers, starting with those delinquent since 1949 and working back, outlining the steps that will be taken if the taxes are not paid. If no reply is received within 15 days after letter is mailed, a special deputy sheriff will serve a distress warrant on the delinquent taxpayer. The taxpayer can avoid service of the warrant by paying the delinquent tax to the special deputy or to the county collector's office.

IF THE TAXPAYER does not pay and the warrant is served, a penalty of 6% will be added to the bill plus at least $2.00 for service of the warrant. If service of the warrant does not result in payment, the county officials vow that the personal property of the delinquent taxpayer will then be seized and sold at public auction to satisfy the tax delinquency, as authorized by law. If the delinquent taxpayer has moved from the county but still owns real estate in the county, action will be taken to secure a lien against the real property for the amount of the unpaid personal property tax, as is also authorized by present law.

It is believed by county officials that such action in even a few cases, when coupled with the publicity that will be given in newspapers throughout the county, will put an immediate stop to the growing feeling that personal property taxes need not be paid, so that it will not be necessary to follow this expensive collection procedure very long.

Certainly the real estate taxpayers, and the personal property taxpayers who have paid their taxes should support this action of the county board and the county officials, since every dollar uncollected because of tax delinquency becomes an additional tax burden on those who pay their taxes.

THIS DUPAGE county experiment should be of interest to taxpayers throughout the state, particularly in Cook county and other counties where the personal property tax collection problem exists. Despite the fact that the bulk of personal property taxpayers in Cook county were wiped off the assessment books by administrative ruling exempting ordinary household furnishings from assessment, personal property collections in Cook county amounted to only 73 1/3% in 1950, with over 18 million dollars in personal property taxes uncollected for that year. 1949 collections were only slightly over 73%, with more than 18 million dollars uncollected. If the DuPage experiment proves successful, local governments in Cook county, including the city of Chicago, might look to their Cook county officials to follow the same procedure to help solve their local financial problems, instead of looking always to the Illinois General Assembly for help.

Chas. Bliese passed away Sept. 16, 1950.

How often do I tread the path
That leads me to the grave,
Where rests the one we loved so well
But whom we could not save.
Long days, long nights you have your pain
Waiting for cure but all in vain.
God saw that you were suffering
And the hills were hard to climb
So He closed your weary eyes
And whispered peace be thine.

LIVING SONG

Music must take rank as the highest of the fine arts—as the one which, more than any other, ministers to human welfare.

—Herbert Spencer

Music is divine. Mind, not matter, makes music; and if the divine tone be lacking, the human tone has no melody for me.

—Mary Baker Eddy

Music is a discipline, and a mistress of order and good manners; she makes the people milder and gentler, more moral and more reasonable.

—Martin Luther

Music resembles poetry; in each are numerous graces which no methods teach, and which a master hand alone can reach.

Ceramics to again be taught at adult evening school

A class in Ceramics will be offered in the Arlington Heights Adult Evening school series, and will be taught by Miss Kay Campbell at the South school Wednesday evenings for ten weeks beginning the first week in October.

The class will offer work in clay by hand and with small tools. No previous experience is necessary. Ample opportunity will be given for experimenting in glazes from dull mat to brilliant gloss.

The class will be taught in the art room of the Junior high school, and a kiln will be available for the firing of favorite pieces. This will be the first Ceramics class offered in the last two years, and rather heavy enrollment is expected.

TAX FACTS

By George Mahin, Executive Secretary, Taxpayer's Federation of Illinois

DuPage county officials have set out to prove that delinquent personal property taxes can be collected, and that there are plenty of teeth in the present laws to force payment.

The decision to launch an all-out campaign for collection of delinquent personal property taxes was reached by the DuPage county board of supervisors when personal property tax collections dropped from 83% in 1948 to 73% in 1949. The drop in collections in DuPage county on the western border of Cook, is attributed by DuPage officials to propaganda issued by a group of recalcitrant taxpayer immigrants from Cook county who contend that personal property taxes can't be collected, so why pay them.

DuPage county collector Jack DeRosa, in accordance with instructions from the delinquent tax committee of the county board, is sending out letters in batches of 200 to delinquent personal property taxpayers, starting with those delinquent since 1949 and working back, outlining the steps that will be taken if the taxes are not paid. If no reply is received within 15 days after letter is mailed, a special deputy sheriff will serve a distress warrant on the delinquent taxpayer. The taxpayer can avoid service of the warrant by paying the delinquent tax to the special deputy or to the county collector's office.

IF THE TAXPAYER does not pay and the warrant is served, a penalty of 6% will be added to the bill plus at least $2.00 for service of the warrant. If service of the warrant does not result in payment, the county officials vow that the personal property of the delinquent taxpayer will then be seized and sold at public auction to satisfy the tax delinquency, as authorized by law. If the delinquent taxpayer has moved from the county but still owns real estate in the county, action will be taken to secure a lien against the real property for the amount of the unpaid personal property tax, as is also authorized by present law.

It is believed by county officials that such action in even a few cases, when coupled with the publicity that will be given in newspapers throughout the county, will put an immediate stop to the growing feeling that personal property taxes need not be paid, so that it will not be necessary to follow this expensive collection procedure very long.

Certainly the real estate taxpayers, and the personal property taxpayers who have paid their taxes should support this action of the county board and the county officials, since every dollar uncollected because of tax delinquency becomes an additional tax burden on those who pay their taxes.

THIS DUPAGE county experiment should be of interest to taxpayers throughout the state, particularly in Cook county and other counties where the personal property tax collection problem exists. Despite the fact that the bulk of personal property taxpayers in Cook county were wiped off the assessment books by administrative ruling exempting ordinary household furnishings from assessment, personal property collections in Cook county amounted to only 73 1/3% in 1950, with over 18 million dollars in personal property taxes uncollected for that year. 1949 collections were only slightly over 73%, with more than 18 million dollars uncollected. If the DuPage experiment proves successful, local governments in Cook county, including the city of Chicago, might look to their Cook county officials to follow the same procedure to help solve their local financial problems, instead of looking always to the Illinois General Assembly for help.

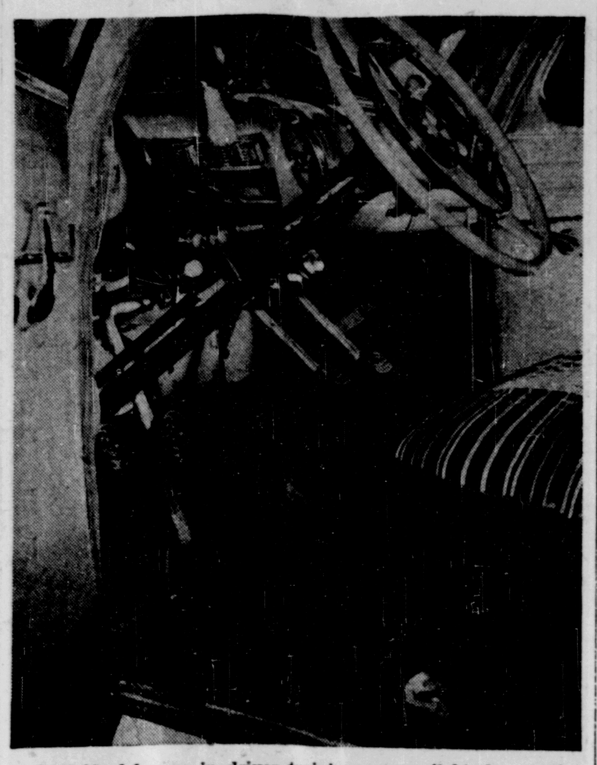
Superstitions

One of the problems of census taking among primitive or superstitious peoples is the ancient fear that the counting of persons or goods may lead to disasters, notes the National Geographic Society.

Offer driver's training to adults



Individual lessons in driver training are available by appointment with the Adult Education office of the Arlington Heights township high school.

With dual controls in the driver training cars, all fear and uncertainty is removed, and the student learns to drive in a short time with the utmost confidence. A trained staff of instructors and two brand new cars make this course popular with both teen-agers and adults.

Chas. Bliese passed away Sept. 16, 1950.

How often do I tread the path
That leads me to the grave,
Where rests the one we loved so well
But whom we could not save.

Waiting for cure but all in vain.

And the hills were hard to climb
So He closed your weary eyes
And whispered peace be thine.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That a knowledge of God and His spiritual creation contributes to an understanding of true substance, will be explained in next Sunday's services in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The title of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday, September 16, is "SUBSTANCE."

The Golden Text is from Hosea (12: 6) "Turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgment, and wait on thy God continually."

Bible selections (King James Version) in the Lesson-Sermon include these passages:

"Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal; But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt and where thieves do not break through nor steal: For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also" (Matt. 6: 19-21).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Man understands spiritual existence in proportion as his treasures of Truth and Love are enlarged. Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual,—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite,—in order that sin and mortality may be put off" (p. 265).

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

Buying and selling, spending freely, he was a successful man about town. To be sure, it was his father's business, but he was rapidly showing himself to be a capable junior administrator. In a class-conscious town, it gave his father some pride to have a son who was such a free and generous host — so free and generous that the son was welcome in the highest circles of society, while the father as a wealthy merchant could not aspire to better than the second rank.

The thing that Peter Bernardone could not understand was how his son could so suddenly and so drastically overthrow all that his father worked for and believed in. For the son of Pietro Bernardone was named Francesca, and it is as St. Francis of Assisi that he has endeared himself to the religious mind for seven centuries.

IT WAS AS Francis the Innovator that he was known by his friends and by those who did not understand him. Francis was one of those who saw basic impossibility of reconciliation between Christian faith and the then-rising principles of the commercial age. (I am not saying here that such reconciliation is impossible; I am only saying that a great many outstanding spiritual leaders have found it so.) Many of us who speak loudly for capitalism tend to forget that as economic theory and practice, capitalism is not a peculiar American contribution to the world's culture. It was already old, and sick, when industrialism gave it a new source of life and strength.

Francis came to his innovations not out of ignorance, but out of complete acquaintance and mastery of the skill of making money in a commercial society. The major point of Francis' innovations lay in that all Franciscans, individually and collectively, were to be servants of Madonna Poverty. There were monastaries before him, founded on the principle of individual poverty, but the order was able to build houses, hold land and work it, and accumulate working capital.

From the Sermon on the Mount, "take no thought for the morrow," from the instructions to the seventy who were sent out to preach, "take no currency and no coin, no staff to defend yourself, no extra cloak," Francis developed an ideal of the service of God which demanded complete and utter poverty. And above all, he and his friends found their guiding light in the words, "Be of good cheer."

AND THEY WERE a cheerful lot. In this, they were a contradiction and an irrationality to good and sensible burghers of thirteenth century Europe. For the Franciscans went barefoot in winter, and laughed and sang. The Franciscans begged their bread, and, if they got what amounted to garbage, they laughed and sang and ate it cheerfully.

The Franciscans worked, but for no more than food—and the story is told of one that, when the person for whom he worked insisted on giving him twice what had been asked, he refused to take more than half of what had been asked—and then went singing down the road, happy with his pittance.

Nothing was theirs, not even the shabby coat upon their backs (coat? rather a loose garment of shreds and patches) for the coat was God's, and only loaned to them until they should find someone more in need of it than themselves; then they would frequently give it, saying, "Here is thy cloak, and I thank thee for its use," and away they went laughing and singing, leaving the poor recipient befuddled but in possession of a better cloak than he had previously had.

Perhaps in a letter to Guido, Bishop of Assisi, Francis was best able to explain this curious state of affairs. The Bishop had urged the Franciscans build and maintain houses like other monastic groups. But Francis replied, "My lord, if we should have possessions, we should need arms to protect ourselves. For thence arise disputes and lawsuits, and for this cause the love of God and of our neighbor is wont ofttimes to be hindered, wherefore we be minded to possess naught of worldly goods in this world." Having nothing, they enjoyed everything.

(There is a great deal more to this story of Francis; one of these weeks, we hope to return to it.)

by William O. McGill

Buying and selling, spending freely, he was a successful man about town. To be sure, it was his father's business, but he was rapidly showing himself to be a capable junior administrator. In a class-conscious town, it gave his father some pride to have a son who was such a free and generous host — so free and generous that the son was welcome in the highest circles of society, while the father as a wealthy merchant could not aspire to better than the second rank.

The thing that Peter Bernardone could not understand was how his son could so suddenly and so drastically overthrow all that his father worked for and believed in. For the son of Pietro Bernardone was named Francesca, and it is as St. Francis of Assisi that he has endeared himself to the religious mind for seven centuries.

IT WAS AS Francis the Innovator that he was known by his friends and by those who did not understand him. Francis was one of those who saw basic impossibility of reconciliation between Christian faith and the then-rising principles of the commercial age. (I am not saying here that such reconciliation is impossible; I am only saying that a great many outstanding spiritual leaders have found it so.) Many of us who speak loudly for capitalism tend to forget that as economic theory and practice, capitalism is not a peculiar American contribution to the world's culture. It was already old, and sick, when industrialism gave it a new source of life and strength.

Francis came to his innovations not out of ignorance, but out of complete acquaintance and mastery of the skill of making money in a commercial society. The major point of Francis' innovations lay in that all Franciscans, individually and collectively, were to be servants of Madonna Poverty. There were monastaries before him, founded on the principle of individual poverty, but the order was able to build houses, hold land and work it, and accumulate working capital.

From the Sermon on the Mount, "take no thought for the morrow," from the instructions to the seventy who were sent out to preach, "take no currency and no coin, no staff to defend yourself, no extra cloak," Francis developed an ideal of the service of God which demanded complete and utter poverty. And above all, he and his friends found their guiding light in the words, "Be of good cheer."

AND THEY WERE a cheerful lot. In this, they were a contradiction and an irrationality to good and sensible burghers of thirteenth century Europe. For the Franciscans went barefoot in winter, and laughed and sang. The Franciscans begged their bread, and, if they got what amounted to garbage, they laughed and sang and ate it cheerfully.

The Franciscans worked, but for no more than food—and the story is told of one that, when the person for whom he worked insisted on giving him twice what had been asked, he refused to take more than half of what had been asked—and then went singing down the road, happy with his pittance.

Nothing was theirs, not even the shabby coat upon their backs (coat? rather a loose garment of shreds and patches) for the coat was God's, and only loaned to them until they should find someone more in need of it than themselves; then they would frequently give it, saying, "Here is thy cloak, and I thank thee for its use," and away they went laughing and singing, leaving the poor recipient befuddled but in possession of a better cloak than he had previously had.

Perhaps in a letter to Guido, Bishop of Assisi, Francis was best able to explain this curious state of affairs. The Bishop had urged the Franciscans build and maintain houses like other monastic groups. But Francis replied, "My lord, if we should have possessions, we should need arms to protect ourselves. For thence arise disputes and lawsuits, and for this cause the love of God and of our neighbor is wont ofttimes to be hindered, wherefore we be minded to possess naught of worldly goods in this world." Having nothing, they enjoyed everything.

(There is a great deal more to this story of Francis; one of these weeks, we hope to return to it.)

Reach For Bleach

In refinishing, it is sometimes desirable or necessary to bleach all or portions of the wood after the old finish has been removed. There are special materials on the market for this purpose as well as for bleaching new wood to secure the popular blonde finishes.

Just Looking

Here comes a criticism of Arlington Heights! You'll have to admit I have been pretty darn flattering most of the time but now I've discovered a fault. Your water is quite hard! I found this out by turning on a faucet and also by talking with the Rainbow Water Softener people who have moved into a newly decorated office at 113 E. Davis st.—very nice.

When I wondered out loud why they had come to our pleasant town, this was the answer. They consider it wise to sell their service where it is needed most and this area is supposed to have very hard water.

If you are not acquainted with the virtues of having a water softener in your home, just call one of your friends who has one. He'll sell you on the idea 'cause the man who owns one knows that it is no luxury—it's a necessity.

A water softener can be purchased painlessly on an F.H.A. plan which you pay on monthly for 3 years at a manageable sum per month. As many newcomers do, Rainbow is offering their various water softener units at a special low price right now. Call them for details on which service would be the wisest for you.

Incidentally, they have the rental units too, ideal for people who rent or look on their present home as temporary.

Bob Keefe is the type of grocer who will get up in the middle of the night if you need a loaf of broad right then. Now I know Bob won't thank me if anyone tries to do this to him but he really is giving people more service than most grocery stores do.

He runs the Arlington Heights Certified Food Store on N. Dunton which he opens up at 8:30 in the morning—earlier than anyone else I know of—and he stays open till about 6:15 p.m. every night except Friday when he is there till 9. Now here's the new one. He will be open on Sundays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and all week end sale prices remain in effect through Sunday.

Wouldn't you say he was giving really good old-fashioned service?

The most attractive jersey blouses I have ever seen are pinned high up on the wall of Muriel Mundy's attractive shop at 19 W. Davis. There are 6 different styles—all copies of Paris originals.

One is amusingly and appropriately called "the cat's whiskers." It's a jersey with a detachable white pique tie—the tie is a bouquet of white pique ropes. You'll have to see this to understand just what I mean. Quite startling to run onto the white pique touch in fall clothes but so very becoming on the dark jerseys. I bought a black one which worn with last year's black suit should give my wardrobe a wanted lift.

The "cat's whiskers" may not be your favorite—perhaps you'll like the red one with the dramatic large buttons—but one of the six you'll find impossible to resist. $7.98 and 8.98.

We're back in the bowling season again and the Ladies league got off to a smashing start a week ago Tuesday with a few spectacular scores—and a few that need fixing. When I was a-bowling—very poorly, thank you—I wore slacks. I just didn't have the right dress but it seems that dresses are more right than slacks for the game.

Gieseke's Store has some right dresses—and just in time for the opening of the season. They all have the action back, the zipper fly front, the open-pleated sleeves. The sizes offered will fit any and all members of the team. Cotton gabardine is the material, many colors, and the prices are 5.98 or 7.98. Good luck now. Who's going to beat Loeber Corsetiers—last year's champions?

Ah, there's good news this week! I know lots of people who are quite happy over a little development. Raymond Raines, i.e., is happy, and Alfred Martin, and women around town who put their best foot—or face—forward.

The cause of this general pleasantness is that Ray Raines has joined the staff of the Alfred Martin Hairdressing Salon. Ray is pretty well-known around Arlington Heights as a talented hairdresser. Before working here an exclusive Michigan ave. shop was where he spent his time. Before that, he was a Lt. Col. in the army.

Mr. Martin tells me Ray will devote a lot of his time to giving the Tepidaire Wave which combines the best features of the cold wave and the machine wave without completely fracturing the budget. A husband always complains about money but he never complains when his wife starts looking more attractive. A trip to Martin's and a new hairdo will definitely get his attention.

Kids and cookies go together— and cookies and lunch boxes, too. The Cake Box bakes a wide variety of cookies every day—small ones, big round ones like Grandma used to stock in her old-fashioned cooky jar—and a whole assortment of butter cookies made of real butter.

I though I would be lazy just through the summer but how can you think of making cookies when the Cake Box is so handy and their cookies are what they are. Take a bagful home next time you're in to pick up a loaf of their crusty homemade bread.

There has been a lot of controversy about whether one should buy a television set now—or wait a while. But there's a complete lack of controversy about the fact that we are again in the television season—the good programs are coming back and welcome they are at our household.

I personally was a holdout about television—we didn't get a set until last winter but no one was a more cheering fan than I after we did get it. We bought our Motorola when prices were at their highest and altho that is usually pretty maddening we are not a bit sore about it. And the reason is this. We had our set for those few months before prices came down and enjoyed it so much that it was worth every extra cent we paid.

I want to make the point that if you put off buying a set until the color situation is settled you'll just be missing the enjoyment of television for a long time. And I hear the cost of producing a show in color is so terrific that many programs will probably be available only in black and white.

Right now—right this month—television sets are at an all-time low. You can get a 17" screen for what you used to pay for a 10". Rhodes Appliance Stores, handily situated in Prospect Heights, Arlington Heights (formerly the Park Heating), and Palatine offer DuMont, Motorola, Emerson, Zenith, as a start and at sale prices. Think about it and drop in and look the situation over.

There is an ingredient missing in so many things we buy. It's a common thing. Piper's Chocolate Shop, however, puts this missing ingredient in every single thing they sell. You'll find it in their candy, in their ice cream, in their hamburgers. It's QUALITY! I hope Mr. Piper doesn't sue me for giving away his secret but quality is the secret of the delicious eating and drinking you do at Piper's. A perfect example of the way Piper's use quality is the way they make their wonderful ice cream sodas. First a flavored syrup, then soda water, then scoops of homemade ice cream—but the extra special fillup i. a generous dash of heavy cream.

The fellow who first invented sodas made them just this way but the touch has been too long missing. Mr. Piper has brought it back and his sodas are just that much better than anyone else's. Try 'em and see.

All music is what awakes from you when you are reminded by the instruments.

"Night at the Vulcan" by Ngaio Marsh is a novel whose fully developed characters and their involvement in life will appeal to all readers of good books everywhere. So involved do we become in the lives of her characters that the question of which of these entangled people is to meet a violent death equals in excitement and suspense the problem of discovering who committed the crime.

Reviewers on both sides of the Atlantic and the general reader as well, have always placed Ngaio Marsh high among all detective-story writers.

"The Big Show" by Pierre Clostermann is a story of some experiences of a French Fighter Pilot in the R.A.F. Stories of courage and heroism are not rare, but the reader loses contact with his own world and joins Pierre Clostermann in the sky where, from the cramped cockpit of a zooming Spitfire, he lives through the dangers, the strains, the strange exhilarations of 420 sorties against the Nazi air and ground forces. That is why such a book as this, will retain its freshness, its interest and importance.

When the USS Poundstone anchored in Tsingtao harbor one November morning, Robert Andrew Goslin, USN, was aboard. For the next few months this strange new city was Goslin's home. To Goslin, home before this had been the well-known and not unbeloved familiarity of a destroyer; in the apartment on Hupeh Road things at first were not much different. The current novel, China Station, by Donald R. Morris, is one of the new books at the library.

Steelmaking Scrap Available

The so-called "home" scrap, that originates within iron and steel plants, fluctuates closely with the volume of steel production, so that the industry is concerned mainly with the quantity available in the open market, moving largely through dealers and brokers who specialize in this business. In a period of rapid expansion in steel production, the return flow of new scrap from factories tends to lag behind the rising ingot production.

Wilson school news

Although only 54 voters came to the school house last Saturday to vote on the additional $6,000 needed to complete the two room addition, the measure was passed 49 to 5.

Twenty-five new desks were delivered to the school last Wednesday and are now in use in Miss Klehm's room. The first day of school many children were seated at long tables because there were more students than desks. Work on the new building was started Saturday, and it is hoped the present crowded condition can be alleviated by the first of the year.

The first PTA meeting of the season will be held in the school basement September 14 at 8 p.m. A special invitation is extended to all newcomers in this area. A fine program has been planned by the 4-H group, and refreshments will be served.

Capt. John Ernst of Palatine rd. left September 11 for Fort Sill, Okla., where he will take a refresher course lasting four to five weeks. From there he will be sent to San Francisco, his port of embarkation, and will sail for Yokohama, Japan, October 22. Capt. Ernst was one of the first men to be called to duty from this section. He entered the service September 16, 1950, and he is now in the anti-aircraft division. His wife, Hazel, and daughter, Susan, are staying with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ernst, Palatine rd., and Susan attends the Wilson school.

Happy birthday to Lee Koelper of Palatine rd., who celebrated his ninth last Friday with an evening party for about 30 guests.

Steelmaking Scrap Available

The so-called "home" scrap, that originates within iron and steel plants, fluctuates closely with the volume of steel production, so that the industry is concerned mainly with the quantity available in the open market, moving largely through dealers and brokers who specialize in this business. In a period of rapid expansion in steel production, the return flow of new scrap from factories tends to lag behind the rising ingot production.

Wilson school news

Although only 54 voters came to the school house last Saturday to vote on the additional $6,000 needed to complete the two room addition, the measure was passed 49 to 5.

Twenty-five new desks were delivered to the school last Wednesday and are now in use in Miss Klehm's room. The first day of school many children were seated at long tables because there were more students than desks. Work on the new building was started Saturday, and it is hoped the present crowded condition can be alleviated by the first of the year.

The first PTA meeting of the season will be held in the school basement September 14 at 8 p.m. A special invitation is extended to all newcomers in this area. A fine program has been planned by the 4-H group, and refreshments will be served.

Capt. John Ernst of Palatine rd. left September 11 for Fort Sill, Okla., where he will take a refresher course lasting four to five weeks. From there he will be sent to San Francisco, his port of embarkation, and will sail for Yokohama, Japan, October 22. Capt. Ernst was one of the first men to be called to duty from this section. He entered the service September 16, 1950, and he is now in the anti-aircraft division. His wife, Hazel, and daughter, Susan, are staying with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ernst, Palatine rd., and Susan attends the Wilson school.

Attorney Peck wins suit against Arlington Heights high school

Feb. 25, 1916—Attorney R. L. Peck has received a copy of the opinion of the Supreme Court on the Arlington Heights high school case, which, upon being decided in favor of the Arlington high school district by the lower court, was carried to the higher court.

Sheared of all legal terms the opinion holds that the Arlington high school district was illegal because women voted and were the means of carrying the election.

The subsequent act legalizing such elections with the provision that it does not apply to territories which have subsequently been made a part of new high school districts does not help Arlington Heights because the Mt. Prospect high school district was legally formed.

Palatine has a scarlet fever epidemic

March 4, 1916—The scarlet fever situation in Palatine has become more serious than expected, resulting in cancelling of all religious and Sunday school services. Funerals can not be open to the public.

The meeting of the health board Tuesday afternoon was as exciting as a game of pinochle. Even after the cards were all on the table the players could not agree on the count and Mayor Taylor was called in as referee.

Somebody reported the conditions to Springfield and bing! A red hot telegram was received by Health Chairman A. C. Olms and all schools ordered closed.

The scarlet fever situation changes every hour and it would take a 10 edition daily to keep up with the latest.

Palatine lowers saloon license but closes saloons Sundays

April 6, 1916—Palatine village board lowered the saloon license fee from $1,000 to $750. This action was taken because of the determination of the village board to enforce the Sunday closing ordinance. While this means a loss of $1250 a year to the village the board did the right thing, if it was the lowering of the saloon license or open Sunday saloons. The sentiment for closed Sunday saloons is so strong in Palatine it is doubtful if the places will ever be opened again.

Palatine St. Paul church to have two English services

March 3, 1916—Never has St. Paul church, Palatine, passed a resolution of greater significance than the one passed last Sunday viz: that there are to be two English services a month, one the first Sunday morning and the other the third Sunday evening. A church that is not progressive is a dead church. Rev. Theodore Bierbaum is the new pastor.

Supreme Court did not decide issue between Arlington & Mt. Prospect

March 10, 1916—Who gets the high school? The editor obtained from Attorney R. L. Peck a copy of the Supreme Court decision on the Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights high school litigation. As we read there, there is no reason for either party to rejoice over the prospects of success. Neither district is favored so far. It looks much like the European war. Whichever side wins is sure to lose, as court costs and alwyers' fees will be heavy and there will be arbitration between them, but the farmers will be required to pay the bill.

Arlington Elevator & Coal Co. is organized

March 24, 1916—Arlington Elevator & Coal Co. is the name of a new incorporated company organized by Geo. W. Begeman and Geo. Schneberger, successors to S. E. Pate. They are young men with capital and experience and bound to succeed in business.

DO NOT NEED PAVING

March 31, 1916—A prominent citizen told the editor this week Arlington does not need paved streets. He said it would cost each property owner more for paving than Bolte or Hartman would charge for rubber boots to enjoy wading in the mud.

PROMISE COMPLETION OF MILWAUKEE AVE. PAVING

March 31, 1916—The county commissioners say that Milwaukee ave. will be paved this summer from River road to Dundee road. We hope they are right.

FIRST FOREST PRESERVE TAX PAID THIS YEAR

March 31, 1916—Wm. Busse has been named as a member of the Forest Preserve committee, which will have charge of the forest preserves for which a tax was paid this year for the first time.

Girls' basketball season closes with victory

March 31, 1916 — Arlington Heights high school girls' quintet closed the season by defeating Des Plaines 8 to 7. Arlington lineup: Alice Schneberger, rf.; Frances Zoll, lf.; Persis Elfeld, c.; Clara Beaumont, r. g.; A. Klehm, M. Krause, lg.

Farmers organize to build elevator at Meacham (Medinah)

The Meacham Mercantile Assn., of which Barney Broker is president, has appointed a building committee who will proceed with plans to erect an elevator at Meacham, just east of the depot, on the north side of the track. It is hoped that the needed switch will be installed and Meacham will no longer be like a dog without a tail having no switch. The work will be superintended by W. G. Chessman. All members and stockholders will help with the construction.

ICC approves air shuttle service between Chicago land airports

Approval of an air taxi service between Chicagoland airports has been granted by the Illinois Commerce commission.

Midway Airlines, Inc., of Dundee rd., Northbrook, and 5900 S. Cicero ave., Chicago, petitioned the ICC for authority on June 29. Regularly scheduled airplane service will be in four parts: between Sky Harbor and Midway airports; between Midway and Meigs field on Northerly isle; between O'Hare International and Midway; and between OHare and Meigs.

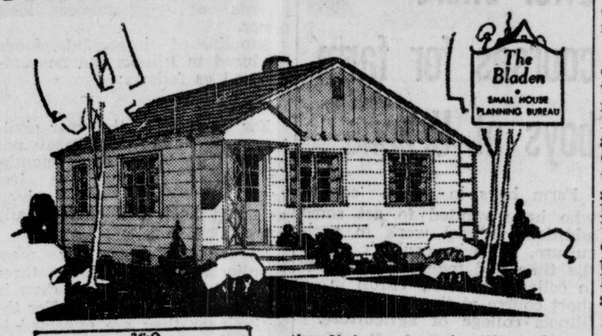
Hugh Riddle, president of the company, said he already has Civil Aeronautics approval of the shuttle service.

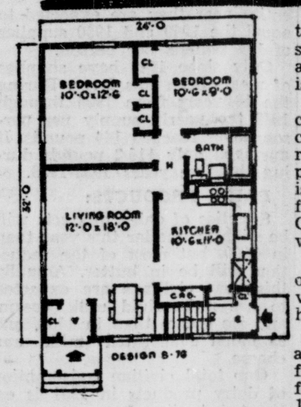
Between the Sky Harbor and Midway fields fare will be $5 per passenger and personal baggage. The Midway-Meigs fare will be $3, and fares for the two other routes are still to be set.

Cessna 195A planes will take 12 minutes for the Sky Harbor-Midway flight and six minutes between Meigs and Midway. No freight or mail will be carried.

Midway Airlines began operating between Sky Harbor and Midway on June 30 the day after it first sought ICC approval of its plans. Ten round trips a day are made on that run, between 2 p. m. and 9 p. m. Passengers are permitted 40 pounds of luggage each.

New Ideas in Homes





THE BLADEN has a wide frontage, calling for a proportionately wide lot, a popular house design trend. Entrance to the living room is through a small vestibule, forming a dining alcove at one end. Dining space is also provided in the kitchen.

Location of stairs brings kitchen and bathroom together to cut costs. Bedroom can be reached through kitchen without passing living room. The range is located next to the chimney for users of combination stoves. Cabinets are arranged on three walls with sink under window.

The dimensions of the Bladen are 24 feet by 32 feet with the floor area totalling 768 square feet and the cubage equalling 14,208 cubic feet in all.

For further information about THE BLADEN, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

About Your Health

The old idea that the incidence of rabies was heaviest during "dog days" is a misconception. Statistics prove that rabid animals bite during all times of the year but more so during early spring and fall, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medcial Society advises in a health talk.

Rabies is an acute infectious disease transmitted to human beings through the bite of an animal harboring the virus causing the disease. Dogs, cats, foxes, wolves, horses, cows and other animals may be affected by the rabies virus, but it is most prevalent in dogs and dogs are most responsible for the spread of the disease.

FROTHING AT THE mouth is not necessarily a symptom in the animal. In a pet, there are definite signs that make it imperative to have the animal examined by a veterinarian at once. If the dog suddenly becomes irritable, snaps without reason, seeks solitude, chews indigestible objects, has excessive saliva with paralysis of the lower jaw, difficulty in swallowing, a change in bark or disturbance in vision, a veterinarian should be consulted.

The incubation period of the virus in a dog varies from one week to six months. It lodges in the saliva. When the dog bites a human being, the virus is passed into the broken skin. A large or deep wound will cause manifestations of the disease sooner than a shallow or a simple tooth wound. Because the virus travels along the nerve routes, a bite on the head, face or neck is particularly dangerous and may produce symptoms within ten days, while an arm or leg wound may not cause the disease for thirty to sixty days.

RABIES CAN BE prevented. There are antirabic injections which fight off the disease and anyone who has been bitten by a dog should seek treatment at once. It is important to remember that the animal's saliva contains the rabies virus for about eight to twelve days before the onset of symptoms. Even though he may appear perfectly well at the time of the bite, he may be infectious.

The prevention of rabies is a community problem, for once symptoms develop the victim dies. Pets should be injected annually with a vaccine that will help build its resistance against the disease. In addition they should not be allowed to roam the streets. Instead they should be kept on a leash, not exceeding six feet in length. Every effort should be made to apprehend stray dogs to comply with health department regulations concerning dogs. All dog bites should be reported at once.

RABIES or hydrophobia is a dread disease. During the onset of the disease, the symptoms may include restlessness, apprehension with irritation and tingling at the site of the bite. As the disease develops, the voice becomes husky, the muscles of swallowing and breathing contract in spasms and literally the victim chokes to death.

If a person is bitten, do not rely on simple first aid or mild antiseptics. Consult a physician immediately so that the wound can be cauterized and preventive injections started. Doing this may save a life, for no one need die of a dog bite if proper precautions are instituted. Haste is necessary because of the rapidity with which the virus travels to the brain and nervous system.

Weekly recipe

This week I am giving you a recipe to be used when you have but a short time to prepare a hot main dish. It is delicious and attractive, and you need only a few ingredients to make it. The casserole may be used for luncheon, dinner, or for Sunday evening supper.

Tune and Pea Casserole
2 cups tuna fish, flaked
6 tablespoons melted butter
2 cups peas
2 cups scalded milk
2 eggs, well beater
Salt

Method: Mix well beaten eggs with milk and salt. Butter casserole and place a layer of tuna, then a layer of cracker crumbs, then a layer of peas; then a layer of crackers, a layer of tuna, a layer of peas and last with a layer of crackers and butter. Pour over all the milk and egg mixture. Bake in a preheated oven at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

"When a feller needs a friend," he can always find one in his dog. Dogs have always seemed to me to be the most lovable, sympathetic creatures on earth.

There is something about the devotion, understanding and sympathy in a dog's brown eyes which cheers and gratifies. Often in my childhood, I poured my trouble into the soft collie ears of my dog, Jess, and she understood.

Because sympathy means so much to us all, we should try to understand and sympathize with the other fellow. People have complained to me about the way a friend or neighbor treated them, how impatient and sarcastic he was. That friend's friend would later pour out his tale of woe to me, and believe me, folks, he would have enough trouble to make anyone feel bitter, unhappy and sarcastic.

The problem which faces me personally is how to be sympathetic and understanding when I, myself, in moments of depression common to us all, believe that I am the most misunderstood, abused, overworked and unhealthy person this side of the graye. It is such a temptation to sing the blues to the other fellow about how unhappy I sometimes feel, and yet that is the thing I should never do.

I remember talking with an acquaintance one time when I was feeling particularly abused and unhapp. I complained about the weather, poor transportation, my infirmities, and a dozen other things. The man was sympathetic, understanding, patient. He never mentioned his own troubles. When I left him, I felt like a new man.

Sometime later, a friend of his told me something about this man's life. He had a wife in a sanitarium upon whom he had spent every penny he had. He even sold his home to pay doctor bills. Every penny he made went to care for his wife and three children and pay the housekeeper who cared for his children. He himself had just gotten over a siege of stomach ulcers. Yet never once had he complained of his circumstances, misfortunes which were ten times greater than mine, while I was telling him my troubles.

Actually, there are few people in the world who have not suffered as much as you and I. Differently, perhaps, but just as much. Next time someone tells us his woes, let's listen, sympathize and encourage, but keep our own troubles to ourselves. Maybe he will do the same for us sometime.

May extend sanitary district west of Glenview village

A large unincorporated area west of the village of Glenview may become a part of the Chicago Sanitary District on September 20.

House bill No. 1058, passed on July 9 by the state legislature and signed by Governor Stevenson, extends the boundaries of the district to include a territory bounded approximately on the south by Central rd., on the west by the Des Plaines river, on the north by Lake ave., and on the east by the village.

Unless a petition is signed by 10 per cent of the legal voters of the affected territory asking for a referendum, the bill will go into effect automatically on September 20.

JOHNSON POLIO FUND OF DES PLAINES $303

The Johnston polio fund of Des Plaines has swelled to $303 and is still growing. Contributions have been received from persons in Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin and Southern Illinois. Also, persons in the nearby communities of Wilmette, Winnetka, Evanston, Glenview, Park Ridge and Chicago have generously given.

Both Mrs. Johnston and daughter, Linda, had to be released from the hospital earlier than anticipated because of the need for bed space in the polio ward of Evanston hospital.

An unfortunate addition to this already tragic story is that Linda contracted mumps immediately after returning home and now the family is in quarantine again.

Outdoor education experiment to be repeated next year at Reinberg

Northwest suburban school systems, fast becoming models for the entire nation, are planning another innovation — outdoor education.

Camp Reinberg, once a welfare camp but now a summer youth camp, was the site of an experiment in outdoor education by the University of Chicago.

Northwest suburban educators have expressed a decided interest in instituting such a program in school curriculum.

Outdoor education — training in natural crafts, nature, and conservation—was taught to two six-grade groups from the university's laboratory school.

The sessions were held during the late spring, and according to Miss Dorothea Chant, executive director of the youth camp, located on Quintens rd., near Deer Grove forest preserve, other sessions have been scheduled for next spring.

"THE EXPERIMENT was considered a success," Miss Chant reported, and added that "Palatine, Barrington, Arlington Hts., and Glencoe have expressed interest in such a program."

Miss Chant emphasized that the program at inception would have to be held merely during the warm months of late spring, summer and early fall because of the present facilities at the camp.

"All the buildings would have to be winterized," she said.

If such a program were instituted, Camp Reinberg during the summer months would still be used as a camp for needy children of the Cook county area.

T. MacArthur retires as president of Oak Leaves Co. after 32 years

Announcement of the retirement of Telfer MacArthur as President of the Oak Leaves Company, which publishes Oak Leaves, Oak Park's 70-year-old weekly community newspaper, was made Monday at a special luncheon meeting of the Quarter Century Club of the Pioneer Publishing Company.

MacArthur, who has served as the head of Oak Leaves for 25 years, and has been associated with the paper for 32 years, will continue as a director of the company. He stated that Victor E. Deckert, a 16 year veteran of the company and the paper's business manager, has been named as his successor as president of the Oak Park publishing firm.

This letter is to advise you that I am. as the attorney for Lorraine Homes, Inc.,. preparing pleadings which will constitute a lawsuit for damages in the amount of one million dollars ($1,000,000.00) against the Village of Arlington Heights, Board of Trustees, Paddock Publications and Albert B. Perlin, Jr., and all others who are responsible for the libel per se against Lorraine Homes, Inc., which appeared in a Paddock paper dated September 7, 1951. This letter is also to put you on notice that I have an attorney's lien in the amount of thirty-three and one-third per cent (33⅓%) of the recovery whether made by settlement or recovered by judgment in the lawsuit.

BULLETIN
The name of Paddock Publications, Inc. has been withdrawn from the $1,000,000 suit, it was learned Tuesday of this week.

This is also to advise you that Lorraine Homes, Inc., will not have one of its representatives at the meeting which is to be held at the Village Hall Friday, September 7, 1951.

Until this date Lorraine Homes, Inc. by its officers and employees have gone out of their way, legally, to satisfy the requests of the citizens of Arlington Heights, including the Village officials. We did this to maintain harmony and good will between everyone. One example is the brick chimney episode where Lorraine Homes, Inc., willingly complied with the Arlington Heights Building Code in constructing brick chimneys, knowing that in the past "tin chimneys" were permitted in certain cases contrary to the Building Code.

I have already prepared pleadings for an injunction which I shall file, if it shall become necessary, to restrain any efforts of any Arlington Heights citizen from maliciously interfering with our project or anything related thereto.

Trusting that the Village of Arlington Heights will co-operate with me in this matter, I remain,

Sincerely yours
John Jursich, Jr.
Chicago.

Rescued dog

I would like to take this opportunity of warning all dog owners in Palatine and vicinity to take extra precautions when you let your dogs run. Especially if you own a good valuable dog, must you be careful, lest you have the same experience we had this past week.

Our dog was picked up in a car shortly after we let him loose; taken to a private home in the country, and chained up; thereby giving him absolutely no chance to come home by himself. This lady notified no one in authority, but waited until my ad appeared in the paper. That evening she called me informing me that "for a price," I could have my dog back.

I am sure this supposed "dog lover" never once gave a thought to the anxious moments we had spent listening to our daughter cry for her pet, or the miles we drove and tramped through corn fields and other places, thinking he had been hit by an automobile.

The local authorities have informed me that there are two legitimate places right here in Palatine where dogs may be taken and held for their owners.

The sorrow and grief caused by the loss of a pet can be a terrible experience, and may this letter serve its purpose to all of you who have good dogs. Be extra careful of them, because it's obvious that only good dogs are picked up. This dog-napping can become a vicious racket!!

Modernization Can Be Fun

ROOM modernization can be a pleasure. With the right materials and sound planning, one can completely transform a room at a cost that is surprisingly low.

See how up-to-date and attractive the room is in the illustration. Its former plaster walls, badly cracked, were covered with rigid, tough panels of Masonite Presdwood. This permanent dry wall material takes any desired finish. Available in panels four feet wide and in lengths to 12 feet, Presdwood goes into place quickly with a minimum of fuss and bother.

Look at the neat, spacious wardrobe in the corner. There's another just like it at the other side of the room. Each was made of Presdwood. Incidentally, this is a room for twins—with two of everything including even a two-seater desk.

Brides-to-be

Kenneth Bollan, Des Plaines; Evalyne Hamilton, Chicago

William Jacobs, Marjorie Nolan, Evanston.

About Varnish Over Wax?

Some time ago I varnished some floors. These floors had been waxed once. I washed them with turpentine, then put on my varnish. It dried well overnight — not the least bit tacky. In about two weeks the varnish began to come off in large strips and scales. Could this be caused by the use of a chemical mop? Or by the use of a "Fullers!" polish on the mop at times? All I know was that wax was used. The quarterrounds, mopboards and the bottoms of the doors are also affected. Can you explain the cause and the way it should be treated?

The reason the varnish lifts off is because the wax did not allow it to anchor to the previous finish. We suspect that these floors were not waxed once, but many times and that the turpentine did not remove all of it. Most of the so-called chemical mops also have wax in them and the chances are that this waxy polish got on the quarterrounds and the mopboards and the bottoms of the doors. You may be able to get the wax and chemical polish off with one of the wax removing products on the market. They can be obtained at Webber Paint Store. Before you refinish the whole job, we suggest that you test a small surface — say a foot or two square — allow the varnish to dry thoroughly as it did in this case, and see whether or not it can be lifted off with a putty knife. If it can, you had better not do any refinishing until the wax is completely off.

May we help solve your decorating problems?

Attorney Peck wins suit against Arlington Heights high school

Feb. 25, 1916—Attorney R. L. Peck has received a copy of the opinion of the Supreme Court on the Arlington Heights high school case, which, upon being decided in favor of the Arlington high school district by the lower court, was carried to the higher court.

Sheared of all legal terms the opinion holds that the Arlington high school district was illegal because women voted and were the means of carrying the election.

The subsequent act legalizing such elections with the provision that it does not apply to territories which have subsequently been made a part of new high school districts does not help Arlington Heights because the Mt. Prospect high school district was legally formed.

Palatine has a scarlet fever epidemic

March 4, 1916—The scarlet fever situation in Palatine has become more serious than expected, resulting in cancelling of all religious and Sunday school services. Funerals can not be open to the public.

The meeting of the health board Tuesday afternoon was as exciting as a game of pinochle. Even after the cards were all on the table the players could not agree on the count and Mayor Taylor was called in as referee.

Somebody reported the conditions to Springfield and bing! A red hot telegram was received by Health Chairman A. C. Olms and all schools ordered closed.

The scarlet fever situation changes every hour and it would take a 10 edition daily to keep up with the latest.

Prof. Lowman of the high school left quarantine Monday after being given an antiseceptic bath in a paper bag. It keeps him busy obeying the conflicting orders of the health authorities.

Palatine lowers saloon license but closes saloons Sundays

April 6, 1916—Palatine village board lowered the saloon license fee from $1,000 to $750. This action was taken because of the determination of the village board to enforce the Sunday closing ordinance. While this means a loss of $1250 a year to the village the board did the right thing, if it was the lowering of the saloon license or open Sunday saloons. The sentiment for closed Sunday saloons is so strong in Palatine it is doubtful if the places will ever be opened again.

Palatine St. Paul church to have two English services

March 3, 1916—Never has St. Paul church, Palatine, passed a resolution of greater significance than the one passed last Sunday viz: that there are to be two English services a month, one the first Sunday morning and the other the third Sunday evening. A church that is not progressive is a dead church. Rev. Theodore Bierbaum is the new pastor.

Supreme Court did not decide issue between Arlington & Mt. Prospect

March 10, 1916—Who gets the high school? The editor obtained from Attorney R. L. Peck a copy of the Supreme Court decision on the Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights high school litigation. As we read there, there is no reason for either party to rejoice over the prospects of success. Neither district is favored so far. It looks much like the European war. Whichever side wins is sure to lose, as court costs and alwyers' fees will be heavy and there will be arbitration between them, but the farmers will be required to pay the bill.

Arlington Elevator & Coal Co. is organized

March 24, 1916—Arlington Elevator & Coal Co. is the name of a new incorporated company organized by Geo. W. Begeman and Geo. Schneberger, successors to S. E. Pate. They are young men with capital and experience and bound to succeed in business.

March 31, 1916—A prominent citizen told the editor this week Arlington does not need paved streets. He said it would cost each property owner more for paving than Bolte or Hartman would charge for rubber boots to enjoy wading in the mud.

Farmers organize to build elevator at Meacham (Medinah)

The Meacham Mercantile Assn., of which Barney Broker is president, has appointed a building committee who will proceed with plans to erect an elevator at Meacham, just east of the depot, on the north side of the track. It is hoped that the needed switch will be installed and Meacham will no longer be like a dog without a tail having no switch. The work will be superintended by W. G. Chessman. All members and stockholders will help with the construction.

ICC approves air shuttle service between Chicago land airports

Approval of an air taxi service between Chicagoland airports has been granted by the Illinois Commerce commission.

Regularly scheduled airplane service will be in four parts: between Sky Harbor and Midway airports; between Midway and Meigs field on Northerly isle; between O'Hare International and Midway; and between OHare and Meigs.

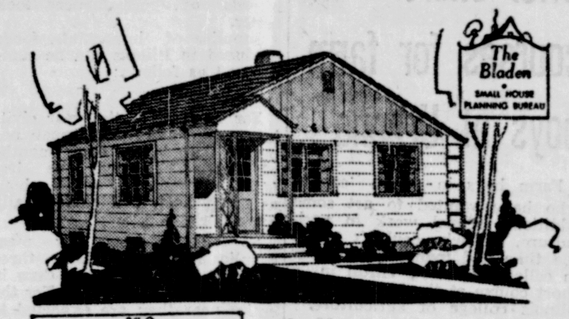
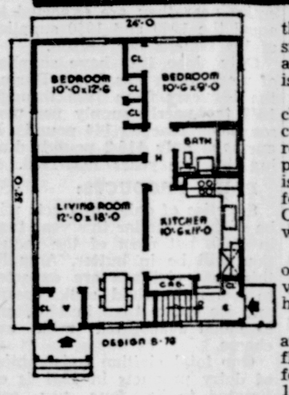
Between the Sky Harbor and Midway fields fare will be $5 per passenger and personal baggage. The Midway-Meigs fare will be $3, and fares for the two other routes are still to be set.

Cessna 195A planes will take 12 minutes for the Sky Harbor-Midway flight and six minutes between Meigs and Midway. No freight or mail will be carried.

Midway Airlines began operating between Sky Harbor and Midway on June 30 the day after it first sought ICC approval of its plans. Ten round trips a day are made on that run, between 2 p. m. and 9 p. m. Passengers are permitted 40 pounds of luggage each.

New Ideas in Homes





THE BLADEN has a wide frontage, calling for a proportionately wide lot, a popular house design trend. Entrance to the living room is through a small vestibule, forming a dining alcove at one end. Dining space is also provided in the kitchen.

Location of stairs brings kitchen and bathroom together to cut costs. Bedroom can be reached through kitchen without passing living room. The range is located next to the chimney for users of combination stoves. Cabinets are arranged on three walls with sink under window.

Plans call for the use of siding on the exterior. Gable features vertical siding, while the roof has asphalt shingles.

The dimensions of the Bladen are 24 feet by 32 feet with the floor area totalling 768 square feet and the cubage equalling 14,208 cubic feet in all.

For further information about THE BLADEN, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

About Your Health

The old idea that the incidence of rabies was heaviest during "dog days" is a misconception. Statistics prove that rabid animals bite during all times of the year but more so during early spring and fall, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medcial Society advises in a health talk.

Rabies is an acute infectious disease transmitted to human beings through the bite of an animal harboring the virus causing the disease. Dogs, cats, foxes, wolves, horses, cows and other animals may be affected by the rabies virus, but it is most prevalent in dogs and dogs are most responsible for the spread of the disease.

FROTHING AT THE mouth is not necessarily a symptom in the animal. In a pet, there are definite signs that make it imperative to have the animal examined by a veterinarian at once. If the dog suddenly becomes irritable, snaps without reason, seeks solitude, chews indigestible objects, has excessive saliva with paralysis of the lower jaw, difficulty in swallowing, a change in bark or disturbance in vision, a veterinarian should be consulted.

The incubation period of the virus in a dog varies from one week to six months. It lodges in the saliva. When the dog bites a human being, the virus is passed into the broken skin. A large or deep wound will cause manifestations of the disease sooner than a shallow or a simple tooth wound. Because the virus travels along the nerve routes, a bite on the head, face or neck is particularly dangerous and may produce symptoms within ten days, while an arm or leg wound may not cause the disease for thirty to sixty days.

RABIES CAN BE prevented. There are antirabic injections which fight off the disease and anyone who has been bitten by a dog should seek treatment at once. It is important to remember that the animal's saliva contains the rabies virus for about eight to twelve days before the onset of symptoms. Even though he may appear perfectly well at the time of the bite, he may be infectious.

The prevention of rabies is a community problem, for once symptoms develop the victim dies. Pets should be injected annually with a vaccine that will help build its resistance against the disease. In addition they should not be allowed to roam the streets. Instead they should be kept on a leash, not exceeding six feet in length. Every effort should be made to apprehend stray dogs to comply with health department regulations concerning dogs. All dog bites should be reported at once.

RABIES or hydrophobia is a dread disease. During the onset of the disease, the symptoms may include restlessness, apprehension with irritation and tingling at the site of the bite. As the disease develops, the voice becomes husky, the muscles of swallowing and breathing contract in spasms and literally the victim chokes to death.

If a person is bitten, do not rely on simple first aid or mild antiseptics. Consult a physician immediately so that the wound can be cauterized and preventive injections started. Doing this may save a life, for no one need die of a dog bite if proper precautions are instituted. Haste is necessary because of the rapidity with which the virus travels to the brain and nervous system.

Do not kill the dog. Have the veterinarian keep it under observation. Abide by his judgment in further procedures.

T. MacArthur retires as president of Oak Leaves Co. after 32 years

Announcement of the retirement of Telfer MacArthur as President of the Oak Leaves Company, which publishes Oak Leaves, Oak Park's 70-year-old weekly community newspaper, was made Monday at a special luncheon meeting of the Quarter Century Club of the Pioneer Publishing Company.

MacArthur, who has served as the head of Oak Leaves for 25 years, and has been associated with the paper for 32 years, will continue as a director of the company. He stated that Victor E. Deckert, a 16 year veteran of the company and the paper's business manager, has been named as his successor as president of the Oak Park publishing firm.

Pioneer is composed of a chain of 10 community and suburban newspapers in the Chicago area, as well as the Roto-Color Company, one of the nation's largest high-speed rotary color printing firms, located in St. Charles, Ill. Other papers forming the Pioneer group, which has a total combined circulation of 150,000, include The Austinite, Oak Leaves and Forest Leaves, The Herald, The Mont-Clare-Leyden Herald, Highland Park News, Highwood News, the Deerfield Review, Highland Park Press, and Lake Forester.

In the future

They've finally solved the problem of automobile door locks getting frozen. A new anti-freeze product consists of a colorless liquid that is squirted directly into the keyhole and lasts for the life of the car . . . Soon to appear on the market is a rug shampooing attachment for any vacuum cleaner with a blower . . . For the southpaw housewife, a new electric iron has a cord that can be attached to either right or left hand side . . . Originally designed for industrial use, a lightweight electric motor with speeds from 4 to 10,000 r.p.m., instantly adjustable with a simple dial, should be of interest for home workshops . . . A Chicago firm is making baby cribs with storage drawers underneath, providing extra space for bedding, bulky garments and toys.

Bits o' business

Bituminous coal output in the week ended August 25 totaled 10,810,000 tons, slightly less than the 11,005,000 produced in the corresponding week last year . . . Sales of trailer coaches hit a new high in the first six months of this year . . . International Cotton Advisory Committee sees 1951-52 consumption of cotton slightly below the record high set in 1950-51 . . . Outstanding consumer installment credit declined slightly in July, after small increases in the two preceding months.

THE FENCE POST

This letter is to advise you that I am. as the attorney for Lorraine Homes, Inc., preparing pleadings which will constitute a lawsuit for damages in the amount of one million dollars ($1,000,000.00) against the Village of Arlington Heights, Board of Trustees, Paddock Publications and Albert B. Perlin, Jr., and all others who are responsible for the libel per se against Lorraine Homes, Inc., which appeared in a Paddock paper dated September 7, 1951. This letter is also to put you on notice that I have an attorney's lien in the amount of thirty-three and one-third per cent (33⅓%) of the recovery whether made by settlement or recovered by judgment in the lawsuit.

BULLETIN

The name of Paddock Publications, Inc. has been withdrawn from the $1,000,000 suit, it was learned Tuesday of this week.

This is also to advise you that Lorraine Homes, Inc., will not have one of its representatives at the meeting which is to be held at the Village Hall Friday, September 7, 1951.

Until this date Lorraine Homes, Inc. by its officers and employees have gone out of their way, legally, to satisfy the requests of the citizens of Arlington Heights, including the Village officials. We did this to maintain harmony and good will between everyone. One example is the brick chimney episode where Lorraine Homes, Inc., willingly complied with the Arlington Heights Building Code in constructing brick chimneys, knowing that in the past "tin chimneys" were permitted in certain cases contrary to the Building Code.

I have already prepared pleadings for an injunction which I shall file, if it shall become necessary, to restrain any efforts of any Arlington Heights citizen from maliciously interfering with our project or anything related thereto.

Trusting that the Village of Arlington Heights will co-operate with me in this matter, I remain,

Sincerely yours
John Jursich, Jr.
Chicago.

Rescued dog

I would like to take this opportunity of warning all dog owners in Palatine and vicinity to take extra precautions when you let your dogs run. Especially if you own a good valuable dog, must you be careful, lest you have the same experience we had this past week.

Our dog was picked up in a car shortly after we let him loose; taken to a private home in the country, and chained up; thereby giving him absolutely no chance to come home by himself. This lady notified no one in authority, but waited until my ad appeared in the paper. That evening she called me informing me that "for a price," I could have my dog back.

I am sure this supposed "dog lover" never once gave a thought to the anxious moments we had spent listening to our daughter cry for her pet, or the miles we drove and tramped through corn fields and other places, thinking he had been hit by an automobile.

The local authorities have informed me that there are two legitimate places right here in Palatine where dogs may be taken and held for their owners.

The sorrow and grief caused by the loss of a pet can be a terrible experience, and may this letter serve its purpose to all of you who have good dogs. Be extra careful of them, because it's obvious that only good dogs are picked up. This dog-napping can become a vicious racket!!

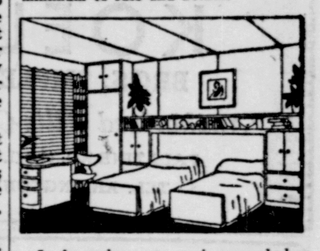
Modernization Can Be Fun

ROOM modernization can be a pleasure. With the right materials and sound planning, one can completely transform a room at a cost that is surprisingly low.

See how up-to-date and attractive the room is in the illustration. Its former plaster walls, badly cracked, were covered with rigid, tough panels of Masonite Presdwood. This permanent dry wall material takes any desired finish. Available in panels four feet wide and in lengths to 12 feet, Presdwood goes into place quickly with a minimum of fuss and bother.



Look at the neat, spacious wardrobe in the corner. There's another just like it at the other side of the room. Each was made of Presdwood. Incidentally, this is a room for twins—with two of everything including even a two-seater desk.

A convenient sun-seat, the bed shelf for a small radio and books, the twin beds and the paneled ceiling are other features of this modernized room. It's really amazing what a transformation can be made with good materials, ordinary carpentry tools and some time, energy and ingenuity!

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

"When a feller needs a friend," he can always find one in his dog. Dogs have always seemed to me to be the most lovable, sympathetic creatures on earth.

There is something about the devotion, understanding and sympathy in a dog's brown eyes which cheers and gratifies. Often in my childhood, I poured my trouble into the soft collie ears of my dog, Jess, and she understood.

Because sympathy means so much to us all, we should try to understand and sympathize with the other fellow. People have complained to me about the way a friend or neighbor treated them, how impatient and sarcastic he was. That friend's friend would later pour out his tale of woe to me, and believe me, folks, he would have enough trouble to make anyone feel bitter, unhappy and sarcastic.

The problem which faces me personally is how to be sympathetic and understanding when I, myself, in moments of depression common to us all, believe that I am the most misunderstood, abused, overworked and unhealthy person this side of the grave. It is such a temptation to sing the blues to the other fellow about how unhappy I sometimes feel, and yet that is the thing I should never do.

I remember talking with an acquaintance one time when I was feeling particularly abused and unhapp. I complained about the weather, poor transportation, my infirmities, and a dozen other things. The man was sympathetic, understanding, patient. He never mentioned his own troubles. When I left him, I felt like a new man.

Sometime later, a friend of his told me something about this man's life. He had a wife in a sanitarium upon whom he had spent every penny he had. He even sold his home to pay doctor bills. Every penny he made went to care for his wife and three children and pay the housekeeper who cared for his children. He himself had just gotten over a siege of stomach ulcers. Yet never once had he complained of his circumstances, misfortunes which were ten times greater than mine, while I was telling him my troubles.

Actually, there are few people in the world who have not suffered as much as you and I. Differently, perhaps, but just as much. Next time someone tells us his woes, let's listen, sympathize and encourage, but keep our own troubles to ourselves. Maybe he will do the same for us sometime.

May extend sanitary district west of Glenview village

A large unincorporated area west of the village of Glenview may become a part of the Chicago Sanitary District on September 20.

House bill No. 1058, passed on July 9 by the state legislature and signed by Governor Stevenson, extends the boundaries of the district to include a territory bounded approximately on the south by Central rd., on the west by the Des Plaines river, on the north by Lake ave., and on the east by the village.

Unless a petition is signed by 10 per cent of the legal voters of the affected territory asking for a referendum, the bill will go into effect automatically on September 20.

JOHNSON POLIO FUND OF DES PLAINES $303

The Johnston polio fund of Des Plaines has swelled to $303 and is still growing. Contributions have been received from persons in Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin and Southern Illinois. Also, persons in the nearby communities of Wilmette, Winnetka, Evanston, Glenview, Park Ridge and Chicago have generously given.

Both Mrs. Johnston and daughter, Linda, had to be released from the hospital earlier than anticipated because of the need for bed space in the polio ward of Evanston hospital.

An unfortunate addition to this already tragic story is that Linda contracted mumps immediately after returning home and now the family is in quarantine again.

Outdoor education experiment to be repeated next year at Reinberg

Northwest suburban school systems, fast becoming models for the entire nation, are planning another innovation — outdoor education.

Camp Reinberg, once a welfare camp but now a summer youth camp, was the site of an experiment in outdoor education by the University of Chicago.

Northwest suburban educators have expressed a decided interest in instituting such a program in school curriculum.

Outdoor education — training in natural crafts, nature, and conservation—was taught to two six-grade groups from the university's laboratory school.

The sessions were held during the late spring, and according to Miss Dorothea Chant, executive director of the youth camp, located on Quintens rd., near Deer Grove forest preserve, other sessions have been scheduled for next spring.

"THE EXPERIMENT was considered a success," Miss Chant reported, and added that "Palatine, Barrington, Arlington Hts., and Glencoe have expressed interest in such a program."

Miss Chant emphasized that the program at inception would have to be held merely during the warm months of late spring, summer and early fall because of the present facilities at the camp.

"All the buildings would have to be winterized," she said.

If such a program were instituted, Camp Reinberg during the summer months would still be used as a camp for needy children of the Cook county area.

Can You Tell Me...

About Varnish Over Wax?

Some time ago I varnished some floors. These floors had been waxed once. I washed them with turpentine, then put on my varnish. It dried well overnight — not the least bit tacky. In about two weeks the varnish began to come off in large strips and scales. Could this be caused by the use of a chemical mop? Or by the use of a "Fullers!" polish on the mop at times? All I know was that wax was used. The quarterrounds, mopboards and the bottoms of the doors are also affected. Can you explain the cause and the way it should be treated?

The reason the varnish lifts off is because the wax did not allow it to anchor to the previous finish. We suspect that these floors were not waxed once, but many times and that the turpentine did not remove all of it. Most of the so-called chemical mops also have wax in them and the chances are that this waxy polish got on the quarterrounds and the mopboards and the bottoms of the doors. You may be able to get the wax and chemical polish off with one of the wax removing products on the market. They can be obtained at Webber Paint Store. Before you refinish the whole job, we suggest that you test a small surface — say a foot or two square — allow the varnish to dry thoroughly as it did in this case, and see whether or not it can be lifted off with a putty knife. If it can, you had better not do any refinishing until the wax is completely off.

May we help solve your decorating problems?

Control cattle lice with dust or sprays here

If you get itchy next winter, it may be the red flannels you're wearing. But if your cattle are scratching, they're probably infested with lice.

It would be pretty hard for a man to concentrate on his job all day long if he had to stop every few minutes to scratch his back. Likewise, it's hard for cattle to concentrate on the job of producing milk or meat if they have to stop eating every few seconds to scratch.

Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees says right now, while the weather still is warm, is the time to prevent a louse problem in your herd next winter. You can use either a spray or a dust.

SPRAYS generally are easier to apply and are more effective when the weather is warm. Mees recommends either DDT or rotonone spray. Use 8 pounds of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder or 8 pounds of 5 per cent rotonone in 100 gallons of water. Spray again in 10 days to kill lice hatched from eggs present during the first application.

If the weather gets unseasonably cold before you have a chance to spray, use a dust. That will prevent chilling the animals. A 5 per cent DDT dust or a dust containing 5/10 of 1 per cent rotonone will give effective control. Sprinkle it on the cattle and rub it down into the skin. Again make two applications.

MEES SAYS a good way to tell if a herd is lousy is to look for hair balls on barbed-wire fences. Infested animals spend a good deal of time scratching and rubbing on fences.

Farms under-insured by forty per cent

The average Illinois farm is "dangerously under-insured," according to D. L. Achenbach, manager, Country Mutual Fire Co. He said a bad barn fire would put most Illinois farmers "completely out of business."

And most farmers, he added, do not have enough money saved to rebuild from their own funds.

"The average good barn," he pointed out, "will cost about $8,000 to build in Illinois. Some, of course, will cost considerably more. An $8,000 barn can be properly insured for less than $60 per year. Other farm properties—residences, tool and machinery sheds, garages, etc.—can be protected as cheaply. Yet most Illinois farm properties are underinsured by at least 40 per cent."

NEWS FOR THE FARMER

Carl F. Mees — Adviser and Editor

FRIDAY, SEPT. 14, 1951

Meat supplies to be about same level as last year for consumers

Many useful reports reach our desk. A recent one, "the national food situation," published by the bureau of agricultural economics, presents a valuable and encouraging forecast of food supplies for coming months.

The report is of special value to farmers, food handlers, and consumers because it points out prospective changes in food supplies. It is encouraging to all of us as consumers because it presents evidence that we will be well fed.

No doubt, too, the information in this report is encouraging and valuable to our government officials and employees who are attempting to prevent further extreme increases in food prices. Ample food supplies will do much more than legislation to make their jobs easier and their records of performance look better.

Supplies of important foods produced in Illinois can be summarized as follows:

MEAT:

For the rest of the year civilians will have more meat per person than in the same months of 1950. There will be less lamb, mutton, and veal, about as much beef, and substantially more pork.

So far this year our meat supplies have been about three per cent less per person than in the same months of 1950. For the entire year they are expected to equal the 1949 and 1950 supplies of 144 pounds per person.

Only since 1943 have supplies of meats been this large. During the 18 years from 1925 through 1942 the yearly supply per person never reached 144 pounds. It averaged only 116.2 pounds during the five years 1935-1939.

DAIRY PRODUCTS:

Supplies of dairy products will be slightly smaller this year than in 1950, but most of the reduction will be in butter. Actually this year civilians are expected to use more fluid milk, cream, and ice cream than in 1950, and as much evaporated milk and cheese.

Our total civilian consumption of dairy products in 1951 is estimated to be four per cent smaller than the 1935-1939 yearly average.

POULTRY AND EGGS:

Supplies of eggs and chickens will continue to be larger than in 1950. In the first six months of this year, civilians consumed about three per cent more eggs than a year earlier.

For the entire year we are expected to consume about 30 pounds of chicken per person, ten per cent more than last year.

FRUITS:

In general our supply of fruits this summer and fall will be as large as or larger than in 1950. For the remainder of 1951 there will be more fresh citrus fruits, more canned juices, frozen fruits products, and more of most deciduous fruits (peaches, plums, etc.) than a year earlier.

Prices about steady: In discussing food prices the BAE states, "Farm prices of food are not expected to change much from present levels during the remainder of 1951. However, some widening of processing and marketing margins is possible under the new amendment to the defense production act."

Offer short courses for farm boys at Urbana

Farm boys in Cook county who have wanted to get some additional school work in agriculture, but who couldn't afford the time and money for a year in college, can now enroll in a short course at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Farm adviser Carl F. Mees says that 10 to 12 different agriculture courses will be offered this year for the first time in an intensive 8-week short course.

Dates set for the first course this year are November 24 through January 25. Deadline for advance registration is November 1. Efforts are being made to house all students together on the campus.

THIS WINTER'S program for eight weeks will give many farm boys a chance to get away from the farm during the slack season to study the latest information on soils, crops, livestock and machinery, Mees points out. It will also give them a chance to get better acquainted with research work at the college and the men who do the work.

Among the courses they will be able to take will be farm management, marketing, farm machinery, crop production, soil management, livestock and dairy cattle feeding and management, farm forestry and horticulture. Each student will select four or five courses which interest him most. All courses will be taught by regular staff members of the college.

TO BE ELIGIBLE to enroll in the short course program, a boy must be a high school graduate or at least 18 years old and must have had farm experience. If he does not live on a farm, the farm experience may have been obtained through summer farm work or through the successful completion of 4-H or vocational agriculture projects.

Farm boys who want more information on the short course program may write to Marshall J. Scott, short course supervisor, 104 Mumford Hall, University of Illinois, Urbana.

Father and son cooperation aids soil improvement

Father-son cooperation in soil improvement has been succesful in Marshall county, Iowa, says Capper's Farmer. Under the plan originated by Howard Vint, county extension director, and Ivan Salmons, soil conservation technician, the father and son or sons work together to conserve the soil and build up the farm.

Usually a farmer applies for assistance in getting conservation practices on his land, explains the nationally-circulated farm magazine. But under this plan the father and son apply together. Vint and Salmons help them with a farm plan and work with them until it is completed.

THE PROJECT'S chief purpose was to improve land use on Marshall county farms. However, the plan has brought other important benefits. Boys carry soil conservation planning as a regular 4-H activity; youths who help their own farms become more productive are good salesmen for better farming methods. They have helped at soil conservation field days, terrace demonstrations, appeared before farm groups and given radio talks.

Secondly, boys who are allowed to take an active part in building up and holding the fertility of a farm, must necessarily sit down and talk things over with Mom and Dad. So the partnership idea pays off by providing a way to break the ice for young men who want to get started on the home farm.

ONE YOUNG man has a one-third partnership agreement with his father and knows that eventually he will take over the home farm. His father says that the joint effort has helped him to know how things would work out with his son, who has been permitted to try out new ideas. The son has been guided by recognizing the great value of his father's varied experience and maturity.

A boy can gain experience in building grass waterways and terrace outlets, relocating field boundaries, constructing dams and ponds. The more actual work that the boy does, the more he helps his father, himself, the family farm—and the more he has in his 4-H record book.

Treat posts to cut fence costs

Replacing fence posts that have rotted out can run into time and money each year. That's why farm adviser Carl Mees recommends chemical treating as an inexpensive way to cut replacement costs.

"It's false economy to put an untreated nondurable post into the ground where it will soon start to rot," Mees declared. "For a few cents extra, you can treat a post that will stay serviceable for several years longer."

Either creosote or pentachlorophenol ("penta" for short) will give good results. Mees suggests using one of these chemicals in a hot-cold bath or cold-soaking treatment.

THE HOT-COLD bath is better than cold-soaking, but takes more attention. Posts should be boiled in hot preservative for 2 or 3 hours, then quickly transferred to a tank of cold preservative and left in it for the same length of time. Or they can be left in the hot preservative until it cools.

The cold-soak treatment is easier, but takes longer. Posts should be soaked 48-72 hours in unheated solution.

A good cold-soak tank can be made from a gasoline storage drum about 3 feet in diameter and 8 feet deep. A satisfactory tank also can be made by welding 3 oil drums together. Or you can use an ordinary livestock watering tank, although it's best not to use it for livestock after the tank has been used to treat posts.

MEES SAYS he has a supply of University of Illinois circulars which give complete instructions for cutting, seasoning and chemically treating fence posts. They are available free at the county extension offices in Arlington Heights or Blue Island, Ill.

If you get itchy next winter, it may be the red flannels you're wearing. But if your cattle are scratching, they're probably infested with lice.

It would be pretty hard for a man to concentrate on his job all day long if he had to stop every few minutes to scratch his back. Likewise, it's hard for cattle to concentrate on the job of producing milk or meat if they have to stop eating every few seconds to scratch.

Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees says right now, while the weather still is warm, is the time to prevent a louse problem in your herd next winter. You can use either a spray or a dust.

SPRAYS generally are easier to apply and are more effective when the weather is warm. Mees recommends either DDT or rotonone spray. Use 8 pounds of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder or 8 pounds of 5 per cent rotonone in 100 gallons of water. Spray again in 10 days to kill lice hatched from eggs present during the first application.

If the weather gets unseasonably cold before you have a chance to spray, use a dust. That will prevent chilling the animals. A 5 per cent DDT dust or a dust containing 5/10 of 1 per cent rotonone will give effective control. Sprinkle it on the cattle and rub it down into the skin. Again make two applications.

MEES SAYS a good way to tell if a herd is lousy is to look for hair balls on barbed-wire fences. Infested animals spend a good deal of time scratching and rubbing on fences.

Farms under-insured by forty per cent

The average Illinois farm is "dangerously under-insured," according to D. L. Achenbach, manager, Country Mutual Fire Co. He said a bad barn fire would put most Illinois farmers "completely out of business."

"They would not collect enough insurance money," he explained, "to rebuild at today's high building costs."

And most farmers, he added, do not have enough money saved to rebuild from their own funds.

"The average good barn," he pointed out, "will cost about $8,000 to build in Illinois. Some, of course, will cost considerably more. An $8,000 barn can be properly insured for less than $60 per year. Other farm properties—residences, tool and machinery sheds, garages, etc.—can be protected as cheaply. Yet most Illinois farm properties are underinsured by at least 40 per cent."

NEWS FOR THE FARMER

Carl F. Mees — Adviser and Editor

Meat supplies to be about same level as last year for consumers

Many useful reports reach our desk. A recent one, "the national food situation," published by the bureau of agricultural economics, presents a valuable and encouraging forecast of food supplies for coming months.

The report is of special value to farmers, food handlers, and consumers because it points out prospective changes in food supplies. It is encouraging to all of us as consumers because it presents evidence that we will be well fed.

No doubt, too, the information in this report is encouraging and valuable to our government officials and employees who are attempting to prevent further extreme increases in food prices. Ample food supplies will do much more than legislation to make their jobs easier and their records of performance look better.

Supplies of important foods produced in Illinois can be summarized as follows:

MEAT:

For the rest of the year civilians will have more meat per person than in the same months of 1950. There will be less lamb, mutton, and veal, about as much beef, and substantially more pork.

So far this year our meat supplies have been about three per cent less per person than in the same months of 1950. For the entire year they are expected to equal the 1949 and 1950 supplies of 144 pounds per person.

Only since 1943 have supplies of meats been this large. During the 18 years from 1925 through 1942 the yearly supply per person never reached 144 pounds. It averaged only 116.2 pounds during the five years 1935-1939.

DAIRY PRODUCTS:

Supplies of dairy products will be slightly smaller this year than in 1950, but most of the reduction will be in butter. Actually this year civilians are expected to use more fluid milk, cream, and ice cream than in 1950, and as much evaporated milk and cheese.

Our total civilian consumption of dairy products in 1951 is estimated to be four per cent smaller than the 1935-1939 yearly average.

POULTRY AND EGGS:

Supplies of eggs and chickens will continue to be larger than in 1950. In the first six months of this year, civilians consumed about three per cent more eggs than a year earlier.

For the entire year we are expected to consume about 30 pounds of chicken per person, ten per cent more than last year.

FRUITS:

In general our supply of fruits this summer and fall will be as large as or larger than in 1950. For the remainder of 1951 there will be more fresh citrus fruits, more canned juices, frozen fruits products, and more of most deciduous fruits (peaches, plums, etc.) than a year earlier.

Prices about steady: In discussing food prices the BAE states, "Farm prices of food are not expected to change much from present levels during the remainder of 1951. However, some widening of processing and marketing margins is possible under the new amendment to the defense production act."

Offer short courses for farm boys at Urbana

Farm boys in Cook county who have wanted to get some additional school work in agriculture, but who couldn't afford the time and money for a year in college, can now enroll in a short course at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Farm adviser Carl F. Mees says that 10 to 12 different agriculture courses will be offered this year for the first time in an intensive 8-week short course.

Dates set for the first course this year are November 24 through January 25. Deadline for advance registration is November 1. Efforts are being made to house all students together on the campus.

THIS WINTER'S program for eight weeks will give many farm boys a chance to get away from the farm during the slack season to study the latest information on soils, crops, livestock and machinery, Mees points out. It will also give them a chance to get better acquainted with research work at the college and the men who do the work.

Among the courses they will be able to take will be farm management, marketing, farm machinery, crop production, soil management, livestock and dairy cattle feeding and management, farm forestry and horticulture. Each student will select four or five courses which interest him most. All courses will be taught by regular staff members of the college.

TO BE ELIGIBLE to enroll in the short course program, a boy must be a high school graduate or at least 18 years old and must have had farm experience. If he does not live on a farm, the farm experience may have been obtained through summer farm work or through the successful completion of 4-H or vocational agriculture projects.

Farm boys who want more information on the short course program may write to Marshall J. Scott, short course supervisor, 104 Mumford Hall, University of Illinois, Urbana.

Ice Follies to open Oct. 4 at the Arena

Marking their sixteenth annual edition, producers Eddie and Roy Shipstad and Oscar Johnson have added a miracle touch to their "Ice Follies of 1952," coming direct to the Chicago arena from Hollywood for a limited engagement extending from October 4 through October 30.

The 1952 production is breathtaking.

Since its founding in 1936 as the original traveling ice revue, Ice Follies has become larger, more spectacular and finer with each succeeding season. More than 30 million persons from coast to coast have seen the previous 15 editions.

SPARKLING and lavish production numbers are many and exceed anything the Shipstads and Johnson team has ever done before. Among them are "A Most Unusual Wedding," an underseas scene highlighted by the wedding of two lobsters; "A Visit with Santa Claus," replete with toy machines, rag dolls, blocks, teddy bears and ol' Nick himself; "Romance of the Islands," a beautiful Hawaiian number, and "Crinoline Gardens," with an old Southern plantation as the site for gaiety and charm.

Matinees—eight in all—will be presented each Saturday and Sunday during the arena engagement. The opening night will be a gala premiere sponsored by the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago, but available to the public. Tickets are on sale for all performances at the arena and Lytton stores in Chicago and suburbs. Mail orders are being accepted at the arena.

History Note

The Arabian peninsula, at the southwest extremity of Asia and measuring about four times the size of Texas, was once a single political unit, but today consists of the kingdoms of Saudi Arabia and Yemen, the British colony of Aden and six British protectorates.

Glenview Countryside may be annexed to sanitary distirct

Imminent annexation of Glenview Countryside into the Chicago Sanitary district will pave the way for a solution to the area's sewerage problem.

A bill passed at the last session of the legislature and signed recently by Gov. Stevenson making Glenview Countryside and the area surrounding Westbrook school a part of the Sanitary district will go into effect automatically Sept. 20 unless a petition is filed by 10 per cent of legal voters of the area. No petitions are being circulated. Boundaries of the area will be Lake ave. on the north, Central rd. on the south and the Des Plaines river on the west.

Despite being a part of the sanitary district, the people of Glenview Countryside still must plan and build their local sewers themselves, since the Sanitary district can build only intercepting sewers. When and if the local sewers are constructed, however, sewage from the area then may flow into the district's interceptor sewer.

To build their own sewers, Glenview Countryside may form its own sanitary district within the Chicago Sanitary district to finance and build the local sewers or perhaps work out an arrangement through the township.

A. No; half unfolded is sufficient.

Q. Are the bride and bridegroom supposed to receive congratulations of their guests in the church?

A. No; they should not receive any congratulations in the church, but should go at once to the place where the breakfast or reception is to be held.

Q. What is the correct position in which a person should hold his head while eating at the table?

A. The head should be held in an erect position, without appearing stiff. The body can lean forward slightly, but the head should never be bent at a right angle.

Q. Is it proper to issue engraved invitations to a cocktail party?

A. Only on strictly formal occasions. Generally, these invitations are extended over the telephone or by personal contact.

Q. What is the meaning of "table d'hote" as used in restaurants?

A. This means a set price for each meal, irrespective of how many courses you order. "A la carte" means that you order "according to the card," and you pay for each dish ordered.

Q. When giving a bridge party which follows a luncheon, is the hostess expected to serve sandwiches or cakes during the game?

A. No.

Q. What should be done with the knife after cutting food at the table?

A. Place it at the upper right-hand edge of the plate, and on the plate, never with the handle resting on the table.

Q. Should a girl of eighteen rise when being introduced to a man of sixty?

A. Yes, it is the proper thing to do—also, to a woman of sixty.

Feminine Frocks

The greatest amount of cotton in ten years went into women's dresses in 1950, the National Cotton Council reports.

Eighteen thousand more bales were used in cotton dresses last year than during the previous year. The increasing number of women's cotton dresses is attributed chiefly to new fabric finishes and to cotton's rising popularity for high-fashion clothing both winter and summer.

Feminine Frocks

The greatest amount of cotton in ten years went into women's dresses in 1950, the National Cotton Council reports.

Eighteen thousand more bales were used in cotton dresses last year than during the previous year. The increasing number of women's cotton dresses is attributed chiefly to new fabric finishes and to cotton's rising popularity for high-fashion clothing both winter and summer.

Physical and achievement tests will be administered; there will be a freshman-faculty picnic, a Convocation welcome from President Laurence M. Gould, an introduction to campus organizations and projects, and various get-acquainted activities.

At Michigan State

Approximately 3,000 new students and transfers are expected to be among an estimated 12,500 students who will enroll at Michigan State College for the fall term September 17-21.

New students and transfers will number 1,800 men and 1,200 women, according to Kermit Smith, assistant registrar.

The estimated 12,500 fall enrollment compares with 14,993 students registering for the fall term, 1950, Smith said. The enrollment drop is probably due to the uncertainty of international conditions, Smith said, and is expected to be felt by virtually all universities in the nation.

Breakdown of fall enrollment indicates that men will outnumber women 8,600 to 3,900.

Included in the group of new students and transfers are Elizabeth A. Nichols and Phoebe A. Ellis of Arlington Heights, and Ingeborg G. Nienhold of Mt. Prospect.

At Illinois Tech

Presenting the Younger Generation

Rutledge studio

Busy-body

The first in today's representation of the younger set is Jeffrey Van Ec, 21 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Van Ec, of 732 S. Vail ave., Arlington Heights. He has blond hair and brown eyes.

"Young Jeff is a little busybody," said Mrs. Van Ec. "He loves to get into things and does well enough for six children," she laughed.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Anderson of Maywood are this fellow's maternal grandparents.

Good girl

There's a big laugh! And it belongs to 9 month old Marilyn Jean Beckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald C. Beckman of 630 S. Dryden place, Arlington Heights. Marilyn has light brown hair, blue eyes and a happy disposition.

"She is such a good natured baby," explained Mrs. Beckman, "and is very interested in her older brother, John." John is 9 years old and a fourth grader at the South school.

Mrs. F. Beckman and Mr. and Mrs. H. Johnson of Chicago are the grandparents.

Friendly fellow

Keith Hurley, pictured next, is the friendly young son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hurley of 434 S. Vail ave., Arlington Heights.

Keith has light brown hair, blue eyes and is 13 months old. "He's lots of fun now." said Mrs. Hurley. "He is learning to talk and can say Mommy and Daddy." A fuzzy dog and all pots and pans are his favorite playthings. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bornkamp of 210 S. State are his maternal grandparents.

Petite Miss

Petite and vivacious are words which best describe Michelle Wilcox. She is the 13 month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilcox of 425 S. Vail ave., Arlington Heights. Brown hair and brown eyes are part of her dainty features.

"Michelle takes a few steps with help from her older sister and brother, and talks a little bit," declared Mrs. Wilcox. She, like many youngsters her age, has made fast friends with a wooly blanket. Joan, 6, and a first grader at the South school, and George, 4½, are her devoted admirers.

Jolly Jackie

Jackie Searfoss is a peppy lad of 3½ years. He has light brown hair, blue eyes and this generous smile. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Searfoss of 1206 W. Elm st., Arlington Heights, are his parents.

"Jackie loves trains and likes to be out-of-doors all the time," said Mrs. Searfoss. Indoors his 7-week old sister, Wendy Ann, is of great importance. "And he is just crazy about Wendy Ann," said his mother.

Mrs. Emily Mannsbach, living with the family, is the maternal grandparent.

Des Plaines theatre guild announces season plays

The Des Plaines theatre guild has selected plays for the 1951-52 season, which include some top notch plays, and all previous New York and Chicago long run hits. Contractors move in to enlarge Glenview

A federal condemnation order has given the Navy immediate possession of a 112 acre tract just north of the Glenview naval air station in Northfield township.

The fifteen landowners in the area, between Milwaukee railroad on the east and a point near Willow road and Lehigh ave. on the north, will be paid $144,835 for the entire tract. Included in the area are five homes on improved lots and ten unimproved lots.

Contractors moved into the area several days ago by agreement with the landowners. They are operating under rush orders so that the runway can be finished before the construction season ends about November 15, according to the Navy. The existing 6,300 foot concrete strip will be extended to 8,000 feet and will be strengthened

Mail order bulbs may be fakes

From the Chicago Better Business Bureau comes a warning against those unbelievable bargains in tulip bulbs, such as, for example, "75 bulbs for $1.00" or "100 bulbs for $1.73," etc. The bulbs will be delivered but, says the Bureau, you may have trouble finding them.

The facts are these so-called bulbs—really bulblets—are so small they will not bloom next spring. Home gardeners throughout the country have for years been cheated with these "too good to be true" offers and which may again be advertised in mail order columns of certain publications.

To obtain facts on one company, investigators of five different Better Business Bureaus throughout the country placed orders for 100 bulbs which had been advertised at close to $1.70. Upon receipt, the shipment of bulblets was turned over to capable horticulturists to insure the bulblets being given a fair trial in their respective test plantings.

EXAMINATION showed these so-called bulbs were extremely small. They were far below the size which could be expected to bloom. In these test plantings not one single bloom was obtained from the five orders of 100 each.

Some advertisers of these products endeavor to clothe themselves with respectability by offering an iron-clad money back guarantee to dissatisfied customers, providing the "bulbs" are returned, or if they do not bloom.

To this the Better Business Bureau replies that a money back guarantee does not and cannot justify misleading advertising, or the offering of merchandise which will not perform as the purchaser would have a right to expect.

Gives own blood to get television

Fritz Siebut of 1763 Ash st., Des Plaines, reported to police his home had been burglarized while he and his wife were out of town. Investigation showed a small hole had been broken in the glass of the back door and the burglar had put his hand through the hole to lift the latch. However, in doing so he cut his hand or arm as a trail of blood through the house and on the front door indicated.

Evidently when the burglar stuck his hand through the hole in the glass he cut himself, but still carried out the theft of a 17 inch television set which he removed through the front door.
